LIBRARY NEWS

The Library has a new listing of all journals in the collection on the rotary file. The journals are listed alphabetically by main entry, and notations are made when a title has changed. If you need assistance using the new listing, please consult the library staff.

We have also acquired the Arachnological Microfiche Library, MCF-721 (Cooke, John A.L. The Arachnological micro-fiche library: Series 1: Keyworks in spider systematics. Oxford: Oxford Microform Publications, 1977, mcf 721). This includes 61 titles, and a detailed catalog will be available shortly. In the meantime, there is an index listing available.

REGARDING TRAVEL

Eastern Airlines now requires a minimum of 2 hours advance check-in for international flights due to new security measures. Since this might also cause schedule changes, travellers should reconfirm all flights, and verify check-in time requirements, departure and arrival times, etc. Whenever possible, you should leave a telephone number where you can be contacted by the airline if there are any changes.

MAY DAY

Labor Day in Panama is celebrated on May 1st (Thursday) and is an official holiday. STRI offices will be open, but a liberal leave policy will be applied. Employees wishing to take this day off should request it in advance from their supervisors.

This year government offices will be closed also on Friday, May 2nd.
