

Fig. S1. The relationship between log change in range size and log distance coded by taxonomic affinity for each of three time transitions (Pre-Glacial to Glacial; Glacial to Holocene, and Holocene to Modern). Pearson product moment correlations showed no significant relationships between the two range shift parameters in any of the three time transitions.