A DICTIONARY OF THE OSAGE LANGUAGE

By FRANCIS LA FLESCHÉ

INTRODUCTION

The preparation of this work has been made possible by the Missouri Historical Society, which, through the energetic interest of its late treasurer, Mr. Breckinridge Jones, established an "Osage Fund" for this particular purpose from a generous donation for the study of the Osage language made by Mr. E. W. Marland of Ponca City, Okla. It is the result of several years of study and it is hoped that it may be of use to those who desire a knowledge, not only of Osage, but of the great Siouan family of tongues to which it belongs.

After several years of thoughtful work and study, this dictionary is presented in the hope that it will assist those seeking a knowledge and understanding of the Osage language and its usages. Much of this work has been made possible by association with personal friends among the Osage tribe. Living with them brought out more perfectly the words and their meanings. Although many of the expressions of the Osage are similar to those of the Omaha, the terms in their rituals and songs varied.

Particular attention is called to the fact that little or no reference has been made to the grammatical construction or meaning of words. The Osage, like many other tribes, do not discriminate between or know the various parts of speech. By a careful study of this dictionary the student or casual reader will find the same word has many meanings, which to the white man would be confusing. In almost every instance a verb has been indicated by (to) being placed after the word; then the expressions in three persons have been added as illustration for use. Throughout the English to Osage will be found "see" or "which see," suggesting that the full meaning or sense of the word is worth referring to. It has been the desire to give in the Osage-English a full derivative and meaning and use of the word, while in many instances the English simply has the Indian word. Where subject matter refers to "the back of the book," interesting paraphrasing has been given; legends applying strictly to certain words or expressions will be referred to, giving a better understanding to the reader. Many references are made to wi-gi-es (rituals), which play an important part in the construction of this dictionary.

Personal names given in this volume are found among several gentes; these have the references as to meaning. There are many sayings appearing in the back of the book, which have been revised to the modern expressions, taken from a primer prepared by Raqua & Montgomery, published in 1834. These will be of great interest.

While it has not been possible to give all words known to the Osage, those of greatest importance have been given. Some of the words and expressions of this tribe can not be rendered in English; that is, there is no English equivalent. Those taken from the rituals are of great importance, as the rites among the Osage are still held sacred.

In many instances I have found it necessary to change the original spelling of the words to conform to modern times: s has been changed to ç (as th in thin); rh has been eliminated; l and j have also been discarded; the continental vowel is used entirely; the nasalized ^a is used, giving the French nasal sound in many of the words where the letter "n" is found, other than at the beginning of a word or syllable. In all words in the Osage language the most important item to be considered is the accent; attention is called to the medial letters ç, p, and t which have a different sound than the plain letters in the English. A study of the phonetic key which follows will be of great assistance.

Acknowledgment is here made of the courtesy of Chief Fred Look-out and his wife, who were very helpful; also of former Chief Bacon Rind and others, of Pawhuska, Okla., who gave me many facts that otherwise could not have been given in this book. While a guest in Oklahoma I found everyone willing to give the information that has made it possible for me to perform the task of writing this volume. I wish also to acknowledge to Grace D. Woodburn my appreciation for her untiring efforts in carefully and accurately continuing my work, without whose assistance this dictionary could not have been completed.

Few abbreviations have been recorded; those that have been used are self-explanatory. However, it is a simple matter to refer to them: Om. same, Omaha same; f, feminine; m, masculine.

All references for details will be found in the Thirty-sixth, Thirty-ninth, Forty-third, and Forty-fifth Annual Reports of the Bureau of American Ethnology.

After several years of thoughtful work and study, this dictionary is presented in the hope that it will assist those seeking a knowledge and understanding of the Osage language and its usages. Much of this work has been made possible by association with personal friends among the Osage tribe. Living with them brought out more perfectly the words and their meanings. There are many sayings appearing in the back of the book, which have been revised to the modern expressions, taken from a primer prepared by Raqua & Montgomery, published in 1834. These will be of great interest. Some might be classed as wise sayings.

and expressions of this tribe can not be rendered in English; that is, there is no English equivalent. Those taken from the rituals are of great importance, as the rites among the Osage are still held sacred.

In many instances I have found it necessary to change the original spelling of the words to conform to modern times: s has been changed to ç (as th in thin); rh has been eliminated; l and j have also been discarded; the continental vowel is used entirely; the nasalized ^ˆ is used, giving the French nasal sound in many of the words where the letter "n" is found, other than at the beginning of a word or syllable. In all words in the Osage language the most important item to be considered is the accent; attention is called to the medial letters k, p, and t̄ which have a different sound than the plain letters in the English. ho'-e-ga, bare spot (symbolic meanings). This bare spot on the ground has a dual symbolism. It represents the center of the forehead of the mythical elk, which is called ho'-e-ga, a term for an inclosure in which all life takes on bodily form, never to depart therefrom except by death. It also stands for the earth which the mythical elk made to be habitable by separating it from the water. Often this term is used to express the camp of the tribe when ceremonially pitched. The deeper significance refers to the ancient conception of life as proceeding from the combined influences of the cosmic forces. This word ho'-e-ga corresponds to the Omaha word hu'-thu-ga, which has the same meaning.

ho'-e-ga gi-pshe wa-thoⁿ, Song of Walking Over the Earth. The words of this song imply that they proceed from a person who had just accomplished a difficult task, and are addressed to one for whom the great task was performed. This is a version of the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge gens.

LEGEND

The people spake to the Water-beetle, saying "O, grandfather
 It is not possible for the little ones to dwell upon the face of the water.
 We ask you to make search for a way out of our difficulty."
 The Water-beetle replied: "O, my children,
 You ask me to search for a way out of your difficulty."
 Thereupon he pushed forth, even against the current.
 Running swiftly upon the surface of the water,
 He came to a bend of the water,
 Then spake, saying: "It is impossible for me to give you help, O, my grandchildren.
 Although it is not possible for me to give you help,
 I will say to you; My walk of life is upon the surface of the water.
 The little ones shall make of me their symbols,
 When the little ones make of me their symbols,
 They shall be free from all causes of death as they travel the path of life."

 hoⁿ'-ga u-ța-noⁿ-dsi, the name of a gens taking part in the I'-ça-gthe Bo-do Wa-tsi (Dance of the supporting poles of a loom frame). All the various groups having taken part in this dance, the leader of the Hoⁿ'-ga u-ța-noⁿ-dsi gens recites a wi'-gi-e relating to the symbolic significance of the drum rattle. After this the Mi-ķ'iⁿ wa-noⁿ leader begins to beat the drum carried by a servant of the Hoⁿ' I-ni-ķa-shi-ga gens and sings a song,

 the words of which are addressed to the young women and men as though a father were singing to his daughters and sons, using the special paternal kinship term. After the first phrase of this song the Ho'-ga U-ṭa-no^a-dsi leader beats his rattle and in his turn starts the song and then all the No'-ho^a-zhi^a-ga join in the singing. This name was also applied to a strange people, by the leader of the Wa-zha-zhe division, who found them while wandering over the earth in company with the Ho'-ga and Tsi'-zhu divisions, after the three great divisions had left the sky for the earth. These strangers were in the habit of destroying life.

 ʔa'-xe (Om. same), crow. To the Osage the crow is a mysterious bird. He figures prominently in the tribal rites as a symbol. He is regarded as a very wise bird. When he sees a large body of men marching over the prairies he knows that there will be a fight and follows, because there is a promise of a feast for him. He is always first to appear on the deserted battlefield. He follows the great herds of buffalo to feed upon those that die. The hunter knows where to find a herd, because he sees the crows flying over. This is also the name given a belt (symbolic) worn by members of the He-thu'-shka Society who have won military honors. In this symbolic badge are represented the crow, the eagle, the wolf, as the birds and animals that feed upon the bodies of the warriors slain in battle.

ka'-xe mi-gthoⁿ, crow belt. For reference and symbolic use see ka'-xe (crow).

ka'-xe wa-oⁿ-the, large intestines of the buffalo, a butchering term; one of the entrails of a cow.

Ka'-xe Wa-thoⁿ, the Crow songs. In these songs the rallying of the people is dramatized to go and chastise their foe. The two songs of this group are addressed to the crows by the symbolic men who symbolically act as the protector of the tribal life.

Ka'-xe Wa-thoⁿ, Crow songs. This group of two songs picture the crow flying by couples toward the battlefield to feast upon the bodies of the slain warriors; they fittingly follow the Sho'-ge Wa-thoⁿ (Wolf song). The first of these songs has one stanza of six lines. The second is similar to the first in words but unlike in rhythm and music, the first being slow time, the second fast time and gleeful in expression.

Ka'-xe Wa-thoⁿ, Crow songs. These songs are of the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge version. They are, however, used by the various gentes, each having a slight difference.

mi'-zhi^a, the name of a marriage custom which takes place between a youth and a maiden. The marriageable age is reached shortly after puberty, and those who have attained that period of life are known as Tse ga-no^a, "newly grown." These young people, unless near relatives, are not allowed to mingle or even speak to one another. They are strictly guarded, so that no couple can arrange their own marriage affairs, and open courting or love-making is quite impossible.

The initiatory steps toward marriage must come from the family of the young man. No one having a marriageable daughter can do anything looking toward her marriage; she must wait to be sought. It, therefore, becomes necessary for the parents or near relatives of the youth to seek for him a suitable wife, who must be chosen from a gens other than the gentes to which the father or mother of the youth belongs.

When a suitable maiden has been found—one who in the opinion of the young man's family would make him a good wife—the parents summon four old men, each of whom has won the title of Ni'-ka do^a he, or Good Men. This title belongs to a man who has been married according to the established customs of the tribe, has successfully raised and married off his own children, and lived to become a grandfather. The Ni'-ka do^a he are employed to conduct the negotiations between the family of the youth and that of the chosen maiden, and for their services they receive a fee. When the four men present the proposal of marriage, they extol the character of the family of the young man and also that of the young man himself.

acter of the family of the young man and also that of the young man himself.

There is one point on which every self-respecting family is particular, and that is that the daughter shall marry only into a family the parents of which have been properly united in accordance with the recognized tribal custom. One of the first inquiries made of the four old men by the parents of the girl is upon this subject. When the answers given are satisfactory as to the standing of the youth's family, the next step is the consideration of the number and character of the gifts to be made by the parents of the young man. As all the near relatives of the maiden must each have a gift, it becomes necessary to canvass carefully the amount and value of the gifts offered to insure satisfaction on the part of all entitled to share in them. These negotiations often consume considerable time. When at last this matter is adjusted the four old men are bidden to inform the family of the youth that the relatives of the maiden will be consulted. This form of message is regarded as an assurance to the four men that their mission will be successful. At this point it is possible for the parents of the girl to reject the proposal, but if they are favorably inclined they now communicate with the maternal uncle and consult with him. If he gives his consent, all the other relatives agree to the proposed marriage.

The parents of the maiden send a messenger whose duty it is to convey their consent to the parents of the young man and to announce the time when the ceremony of the delivery of the gifts, the maiden, and the young man shall take place. On the appointed day the parents of the young man lead a procession composed of all the relatives of the youth, each one bearing a gift of a horse or a blanket to be delivered among the relatives of the maiden. When all the promised gifts have been delivered to the relatives of the girl and accepted by them, the relatives of the young man return to their home.

On the following day the parents of the maiden send her, accompanied by a prominent man, to the home of the prospective bridegroom to be delivered to him and to his parents and relatives. This act is spoken of as a declaration: "We give to you our daughter." The bride takes with her gifts of blankets and horses to be distributed among the relatives of the young man. The next morning the bridegroom's relatives again form a procession and take both bride and groom to the house of the bride's parents and deliver her and her husband to her parents' relatives. This act, which completes the marriage, is equivalent to the declaration by the youth's parents: "We give to you our son."

moⁿ, an arrow. The Osage made their arrows out of a wood they call moⁿ-ça hi, arrow wood (Cornus asperi folia). When this wood is not obtainable they use the ash. No^{n'}-ni' A-tha-sho-dse Wi'-gi-e, Smoking Tobacco upon the Animal Skins ritual. In this ceremony there are two rituals; the first is called Wa-k'o^{n'}-ci Thu-çe Pe-tho^{n'}-ba tse, The taking of the Seven Animals. In this ritual a description is given of the manner in which the smoke is blown on the skin of the animal chosen as a symbol; the second ritual is called Wa-k'o^{n'}-ci Thu-çe Sha-pe tse, The taking of the Six Animals. In this mention is made of the symbols to be used, but two of the six are not animals as the name implies, one being the little pipe and the other buffalo hair.

no^{n'}-ni' a-tha-shu-dse wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Four Symbolic Animals. In this ritual the people speak among themselves asking questions that are answered by the four symbolic animals, being personified. These are held sacred by certain gentes; therefore the animals may be said to preside over and to lend courage and strength to the warriors.

no^{n'}-ni'-hi, archaic Osage name for plants used for smoking. The story of the discovery of the plant used for ceremonial smoking is given in the ritual of the making of the rush shrine for the sacred hawk, the emblem of the courage of the warriors. When the first shrine was being made, the priests sent their ceremonial messenger to find a plant that would be suitable for use in smoking at the ceremony of consecrating the finished shrine and the hawk. The messenger first returned with the hiu'-e-ga-çkiu-e (plant not identified), which was rejected. Next he brought in the zha'-hiu (Rudibekia sub-

tomentosa), which was also rejected. Then he brought in a plant (not identified) the leaves of which resembled elk's ears; this was also rejected. Then he brought in the mi-to-o-xthe hi (compass weed), which was rejected. Then he brought in the moⁿ-bi-dse zhiⁿ-ga, sumac (Rhus glabra); but although it could be smoked, it was rejected. The messenger then brought in the seventh plant, the moⁿ-bi-dse hi ste-dse, the tall sumac. The leaves were tried by the priests, who found it to be pleasant to the taste. They accepted the plant and dedicated it to the people of the Tsi'-zhu, Hoⁿ'-ga, and Wa-zha'-zhe tribal divisions for use in their ceremonies and supplications. The name noⁿ-ni'-hi was not used in the body of the ritual, but was used as a part of the title in the Noⁿ-ni'-hiu wi'-gi-e, the Smoking ritual.

no^a-xthe' i-ki^a-dse, fighting for charcoal or fire.

no^a-xthe' i-ki^a-dse wa-tho^a, Songs of the fight for the symbolic charcoal. These songs belong to the great Tsi'-zhu division of the tribe and form a part of the ritual which starts with the reciting of a wi-gi-e very elaborate in ceremonial form. The theme of this ritual is the courage of the three animals designated by the Ancient Men, together with certain qualities of a given bird. They were used to typify the angry fire that destroys all things that happen to be in its pathway. The group of Wa-tho^a Sha-pe Tse, six songs, follow the ritualistic ceremony; the first refers to the calling of all the men to assemble for the ceremony pertaining to the Wa-sha'-be A-thi^a; the second refers to the prompt response of the men as individuals who are called to offer their services as warriors; the third refers to the part to be taken by the men of the gentes having office of making the standards to be carried; the fourth is descriptive of the cries of the warriors who, at break of day, almost nude, plunge into the two great sacred fires and fight with each other for the burning brands from which to obtain the symbolic charcoal; the fifth has a theme of unity of the two fires; which, built opposite each other, are regarded as one; this represents the unity of the tribe; the sixth and last of these no^a-xthe' i-ki^a-dse wa-tho^a—con. songs directs the attention of the initiate to the four symbols, the deerskin, two standards, and the day; this song is sung twice.

no^a-xthe' i-ki^a-dse wa-tho^a, Songs of the fight for the charcoal. In connection with this song there is a wi-gi-e, entitled "The Rush for the Charcoal"; this directs the attention to three animals and two birds chosen by the Ancient Men to be used in the war rites as symbols of fire and charcoal. The song refers to the warriors and to the gentes officiating throughout the ceremony.

no^a-xthe' i-thi-çe—no^a-xthe, coal; i, with which; thi-çe, to take—with-which-to-take-coal: a fire shovel.

no^a-xthe' i-thu-çe, coal shovel.

No^a-xthe' k'a bi, Where coal was dug.

no^a-xthe' wa-ko^a-da-gi, mysterious charcoal. Ceremonially made, this symbolizes the wild fire that is merciless when it takes a destructive course. Each warrior must carry with him a supply of charcoal tied up in a bit of deerskin and fastened to his belt or to his necklace, together with his other bundles of paints. When he is about to join in an attack upon the enemy he must blacken his face with the mysterious charcoal, thus indicating his determination to show no mercy toward the foe. Should he neglect to put on his face this symbol he will not be permitted to count his o-do^a' (war honors) even if he were to perform all the deeds necessary for the winning of individual o-do^a', nor will he be permitted to count his share of the o-do^a' won by the war party as a body.

 Noⁿ'-zhiⁿ-zhoⁿ wa-thoⁿ, songs of the Rite of Vigil. These songs are the version of the Tsi'-zhu gens, there being four in this group; the first expresses the wailing of the supplicant, who by tears and bodily suffering seeks to arouse the compassion and help of Wa'-koⁿ-da;
 the second relates the manner in which the supplicant puts upon himself the sign of Fasting; the third relates the greeting of the ancient men by the gens giving the ceremony; and the fourth signifies the sacred duty of the chosen man who is to continue his wailing and fasting for the full period.
 noⁿ'-zhiⁿ-zhoⁿ wa-thoⁿ, songs of the Rite of Vigil. The name of the fourth degree of the Tribal rites as observed by the Tho'-xe or Buffalo gens. This degree is held as next in importance to the Ni'- ki-e, because it contains nearly all the symbols and ceremonial forms essential to the other degrees.
 These songs follow the Spirit songs. The man chosen for this must keep awake as he offers prayers and his mind must be fixed only upon the supplications of the people. To insure wake-fulness the supplicant must stand or must move about, or if from exhaustion he desires rest he may sit in an upright position. There are two songs, the first having seven stanzas and the second five.

no'-zhi'-zhoⁿ, the Rite of Vigil. Among the Osage this is considered one of the longest and next in importance of the seven degrees; it contains practically all the symbols and ceremonial forms (we'-ga-xe), which places it in a higher rank than other degrees. In connection with this Rite are 116 songs (wa-thoⁿ); these, with o-mi'-hoⁿ, a ceremony by which a widow marries the second time. In this form of marriage the man sends messages to the widow with his offer of marriage, accompanied by gifts consisting of horses and blankets. While the offer of marriage is made direct to the widow, she, wishing to conform as nearly as possible to the Mi'zhi^a (which see) form, refers the messenger and gifts to her parents, if living, or to her nearest relatives, in order that they may decide for her. These relatives consult on the proposal, and if they are satisfied with the negotiations they convey to the messenger their consent and by him send for the man offering himself in marriage. Arriving at the house of the relatives of the woman, he is given a seat beside

her, and the marriage is consummated without further ceremony. This form of marriage must be observed by widowed or divorced persons if they are to retain their social position in the tribe and if the man desires to keep in line to win the title of Ni'-ka-doⁿ-he, provided he has not already achieved it.

o-tho'-ha-ge o^a-tho^a-gthi-gtho^a i, we reconsidered.

o-tho'-da wa-tsi, The Dance in the Center. This is descriptive of the position of the dancers and the spectators. When the two divisions meet at their starting point the Xthe'-ts'a-ge dismount, and as their horses are led away the officers take their seats on the ground between the two ceremonial houses, together with their volunteer warriors—those of the Tsi'-zhu in a semicircle on their side and those of the Ho^a-ga sitting in a semicircle on their side. After all have taken their places, one of the chief Xthe'-ts'a-ge rises and recounts in an excited manner his winning of a war honor; then the singers strike up the first of the four songs now to be sung, beating their drums to accentuate the rhythm. The two Xthe'-ts'a-ge, carrying their respective standards, begin to dance in a circle, followed by others, the Tsi'-zhu taking the outer circle and moving to the right, the Ho^a-ga taking the inner circle and moving to the left. As the men of each division complete the circle they halt, face the center, and continue to dance till the singing ceases; then all sit down.

 pe'-dse u-ç'i wi-gi-e, Contributing to the Fire. This ritual pertains to the ceremonial kindling of the fire by which the sacred water is to be heated. This ritual belongs to all the gentes of the two great

 tribal divisions. An established rule was followed in laying the wood for this fire. If a Tsi'-zhu member was conducting the ceremony, the first symbolic firebrand was laid toward the west; second, toward the north; third, toward the east; and the fourth toward the south. If the ceremony was conducted by a Hoⁿ-ga, the first fire was laid toward the east, the second toward the north, the third toward the west, and the fourth toward the south. The time for kindling the fire was just at sunrise.
 pe'-dse wi-gi-e, The Fire Ritual. This is allegorical and its acts are common throughout the tribal rites. The meaning of the expressions and ceremonial acts are discussed and explained by those versed in the rites at the informal gatherings of the Noⁿ-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga. In this way the knowledge of the inner meanings of the wi-gi-es and their accompanying acts are transmitted from one generation to the other.

shoⁿ-ge wa-thoⁿ, Wolf Songs. These songs not only refer to but belong to the Xthe'-çs'a-ge, the commanding officers chosen at the ceremonial organization of a war party, there being three songs in this group. The first has two stanzas, and in this the Xthe'-çs'a-ge are likened, as they go over the land, to noisy wolves, because their scouts as they come and go call to each other, giving forth the cries of the wolves. The second song is composed of eight lines and refers to the eight commanders, who, when reaching a decision, speak as though with one voice. The third and last song of this group refers to the success in overcoming the enemy, and has one stanza.

shoⁿ-ge wa-thoⁿ, Wolf Songs. These are the Çsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge version and are supplicatory in character, being an appeal to the supernatural to grant the commanders the same powers bestowed upon the wolf to aid them in overcoming their enemies. In the third song there is an appeal for success of the warriors; the fourth is a special appeal to the god of night and to the god of day, these being the only supernatural powers ta-be', ball. (Om. same.) The Osage usually make their balls of the root of a plant called ta-be' hi, ball tree; sometimes of the root of the grapevine. The game which is called ga-çiu is played in honor of the dead. Sometimes when the people of the village become despondent from lack of work to do the principal men come together to set a day on which to awaken them with the game of ball. In this game the people of the two great tribal divisions—the Hoⁿ-ga and the Tsi'-zhu—contend against each other. On the day appointed the men and women of these two divisions bring to the field their finery and weapons,

such as bows and arrows. The Hoⁿ-ga people put theirs in one pile and the Tsi'-zhu in another. When all have brought in their stakes a warrior is called upon to recount his warlike deeds, at the close of which he receives his fee, and then tosses the ball in the air; then the struggle begins, each side striving to drive the ball between one or the other of the two goals which are set a running distance apart. When the game is won the stakes are distributed among the winners, after which all the players feast together and laugh over the comical incidents of the game. The men have their own ball games and the women have theirs.

ts'e'-wa-the (Nelumbo lutea). The root of this plant is gathered and used for food among the Osage. Both men and women gather large quantities of it and store it away for winter use. It is eaten either raw or boiled. The seeds are also eaten (raw). In taste the meat of the seed is not unlike the chestnut. This plant is given a place in the rites, and is regarded as a sacred food. Its common name is water chinquapin.

ts'e'-wa-the, to kill them.
ts'e'-a'-wa-the, I killed them.
ts'e'-wa-tha-the, you killed them.

ts'e wa-thoⁿ, Buffalo songs. It is the custom at the singing of these songs to bring those who are to be instructed in the use and meaning of the symbolic face painting. The songs of this group belong to the gens called Tho'-xe (archaic name for Buffalo Bull). There are six songs in this group. The first relates to corn planting, the growth of the corn, and the joy resulting from the harvest; the second song relates to the completion of the ceremonial planting of the corn; the third song bears a subtitle U'-we Gi-doⁿ-be wa-thoⁿ, Song of Viewing the Field, and pictures the women looking forward with faith to the maturity of the corn which they have planted and the day of fulfillment of their duty and the day of harvest; the fourth song represents the women hastening to the field, and upon arrival shows their delight at the beauty of the broad field, gray with blossoms before them; the fifth song is the buffalo song; and the sixth song is to the hunters

who hasten to the chase, but find others have outstripped them and are nearing their homes, laden with the products, who point to them with surprise.

ṭse wa-thoⁿ, Buffalo songs. There are three songs in this group, being the Ṭsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge version. The first implies a response to the call of the people to the animals to come forth from the unseen to the visible world, in bodily form; in the second the people are represented as speaking, and appear joyful at the response; the third relates to the corn, which, with the buffalo, is given an important place in the ancient tribal rites. These songs show that the animal and the plant were the objects of continued supplications and symbols of mysterious power.

ṭse-wa'-tse u-ga-wa, the inner muscle of my thighs. (From a ritual.)

Ṭse'-xe-ṭ'iⁿ Ṭa-hoⁿ-gthe, leader of the Kettle Carriers. Two divisions, the Ṭsi'-zhu and the Hoⁿ-ga, select Ṭse'-xe-ṭ'iⁿ Ṭa-hoⁿ-gthe—continued, two warriors from each division to serve the Ceremonial Mourner during his period of fasting. These four men are called Ṭse-xe-ṭ'iⁿ Ṭa-hoⁿ-gthe. They make the forked stake upon which the Do-doⁿ'-hoⁿ-ga hangs his pouch and ceremonial pipe when he is at rest. They also decide the length of time the Do-doⁿ'-hoⁿ-ga is to take the Noⁿ'-zhiⁿ-zhoⁿ (fasting) rite.

Ṭse'-xe Ni-ṭa-pu, the sacred earthen pot. After four stones have been placed in proper position within the fireplace, the Sho-ṭa is commanded to bring forth the sacred earthen pot and place it on the stones. When the pot is on the stones the Sho-ṭa puts water in it and then drops therein the mystic foods. The common belief concerning this ceremony is that some mysterious power is given the food cooked in this sacred earthen pot, a power that can reach the enemy and render them incapable of resistance when attacked.

Ṭse'-xe-ni u-e, Drum Creek, Kans. Here a treaty was made.

ṭse'-xe-ni-zhiⁿ-ga, a small drumlike piece; a tambourine.

ṭse'-xe pa-hi, neck of a kettle; a kettle spout; the nose of a kettle.

ṭse'-xe-pa-hi wa-hu-sta — ṭse'-xe, pot; pa-hi, sharp or pointed; wa-hu-sta, small: a coffee pot.

Ṭse'-xe ṭoⁿ-ga, Bed of Big Lake. This was the eighth and final camp of the third buffalo trail. They had now reached the buffalo country, having gone more than 30 miles from the former (seventh) camp. The location was near Ni-hni-bo-shta or Shooting Springs.

wa-ça-be, black bear. Before their country became thickly settled by Europeans the Osage Indians hunted the black bear to use its flesh for food, and its skin was highly valued as u-mi'-zhe, bedding. There were two ways of killing the bear; one was by shooting the animal with the bow and arrow; the other was by spearing with a lance while the animal was in its cave sleeping. The hunting in the cave was done by the aid of torches of wood soaked in grease. The shi'-be, intestine, of the animal is carefully cleansed, dried, scraped, and bleached in the sun until it is perfectly white. It is then cut into narrow strips to be used by young women for tying the hair. The black bear figured prominently in the myths, traditions, and tribal rites of the Osage. His entire body symbolized long life and old age; his claws were the symbols of courage and fire, the fire that knows no mercy; his entire body was the symbol of the charcoal which the warrior was required to put on his face when about to attack the foe; his paws were the symbols of the thirteen military honors called o-doⁿ', which every warrior must strive to win in order to attain social prominence.

Wa-ça'-be wa-ç'o, Black-bear woman. Female personal name.

Wa-ça'-be wa-thoⁿ, Black Bear Songs.

In this group of songs (four in number) reference is made to the soil of the earth given by the black bear to the people to be used as a sign of vigil by them when appealing to the Divine power for aid in overcoming the enemy. The first of this group refers to the touching of the earth; the second to the sanctity of the act by which a person taking the rite of vigil puts upon his face the soil as a supplication symbol; the third song relates to the Do-doⁿ'-hoⁿ-ga, who goes to a place of seclusion, where he can perform the rite of vigil undisturbed; and the fourth song relates to the singer in his vigil, how he recalls the former success of the Do-doⁿ'-hoⁿ-gas, who had faithfully performed all the acts required by the Rite of Vigil.

Wa-ça'-be wa-thoⁿ, Black Bear Songs. This particular group of songs are of the Tsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ga version. Among the Osage the mystic songs were treasured, because all songs have been handed down from the ancient men and are held sacred as being utterances of holy men. In song 3 of this group mention is made of the office of the Black Bear as being custodian of the four symbolic flint knives.

 Wa-koⁿ-da, God.
 Wa-koⁿ-da, is the name applied by the Osage to the mysterious, invisible, creative power which brings into existence all living things of whatever kind. They believe that this great power resides in the air, the blue sky, the clouds, the stars, the sun, the moon, and the earth, and keeps them in motion. Sometimes the Osage speak of a tree, a rock, or a prominent hill as Wa-koⁿ-da, but when asked if his people had great numbers of Wa-koⁿ-das he would reply, "Not so; there is but one God and His presence is in all things and is everywhere. We say a tree is Wa-koⁿ-da because in it also Wa-koⁿ-da resides." The Omaha, Ponca, and Kaw cognate tribes also use the name just as here written and give it the same meaning. In discussing the invisibility of Wa-koⁿ-da, Wa-tse-moⁿ-iⁿ gave the following story of Wa-da'-iⁿ-ga, one of his ancestors:

When Wa-da'-iⁿ-ga was a young man he joined a war party that was marching against a certain enemy tribe. The young man served as a scout in the expedition. The Osage defeated the enemy and started homeward with captives and spoils. During the march Wa-da'-iⁿ-ga turned aside to take the rite of vigil. He fasted eight days, and on the morning of the ninth as he arose he was startled by the sudden appearance of a man before him. The stranger said: "I speak as a messenger; look toward the east!" Wa-da'-iⁿ-ga looked eastward and saw a man whom he took to be the sun and fell to the ground unconscious. When he revived he discovered that his body had become infested with maggots. He believed that he had died and returned to life, and arose to his feet and felt the return of his strength and vigor. Hastening to a brook, he stood amidst its rushing waters, cleansed himself, and then hastened homeward. For a long time Wa-da'-iⁿ-ga could get no meaning out of his vision. Then one day, as he sat with his family, he suddenly became silent and motionless. He became himself again; then he sent a messenger for some of the leading men and told them that a large war party was approaching the village. The men aroused their warriors to action; they met the enemy, slew many of the bravest, and completely routed the rest. The people in their wonder at the strange manner in which Wa-da'-iⁿ-ga gave warning fell to calling him Wa-ko^{n'}-da.

Years passed and when Wa-da'-iⁿ-ga felt that old age was creeping upon him he called together his sons and daughters and their children to have a feast which he prepared for them, and to have a serious talk with them. When the feast was over the old man began:

I wish to speak to you before I depart for spiritland. Be content with the things it pleases Wa-ko^{n'}-da to put within your reach. Do not take the rite of vigil and suffer and thirst with the hope that you will see Wa-ko^{n'}-da. He is invisible. I tried; I have failed; no living man has seen him. No living man ever will. Wa-ko^{n'}-da can not be seen, but we know that he is in all places in the sky and all things that move therein. He is in the earth, in its still waters, its springs, lakes and rivers; in its dark forests and in its grasses. He is everywhere. Our people call me Wa-ko^{n'}-da, but it is wrong to apply that name to a man. A few times I gave to the people timely warnings of approaching danger, and without thinking they called me Wa-ko^{n'}-da, because there was mystery in the manner of giving the alarms.

wa-ko^{n'}-da-gi, a person who has knowledge of medicine; a physician; a doctor; (2) one who pretends to

Wa-no^{n'}-çe A-ba-çu, the title of a wi-gi-e in which the earth is symbolized as that upon which life is manifest. A spot (ho[']-e-ga) made bare by plucking the grass is also a symbol. In this wi[']-gi-e the earth is regarded as one of the abiding places of that All Controlling power to whom the Do-do^{n'}-hoⁿ-ga makes his constant appeal. The plucked grass represents the lives of men, not only against whom he is leading his warriors but also those of his own people whom he is striving to protect. (For reference see paragraph in back of book.)

wa-no^{n'}-çe a-ba-çu, Ceremony of Pointing out Certain Directions of Attack. This refers to certain acts of the Do-do^{n'}-hoⁿ-ga when he recites the last wi-gi-e of the particular ceremony. He acquires the authority to perform this ceremony in the following manner: A member of the No^{n'}-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga, who hopes to be chosen as leader of a ceremonially organized war party at some future time, strives to qualify himself to perform the

wa-no'-çe a-ba-çu ceremony. He performs a certain act which his skill in hunting enables him to do; he may kill a buffalo, a deer, a turkey, or any other game or animal that is full grown, fat, and free from disease or old wounds, and takes it to the No'-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga, by whom he wishes to be initiated in this particular ritual.

Wa-no'-çe A-ba-çu Wa-thoⁿ, Pertaining to the Attack. These songs with a wi'-gi-e point out specially the direction of attack. In the first two songs of this group two birds—the hawk and the crow—are referred to as possessing mystic powers; the third and fourth songs refer to the close of the ceremonial acts; the fifth refers to the act of the warriors in marching one by one over the bunches of grass; by doing this they ask for supernatural aid; the sixth is similar to the fifth, but the act is not so individual, but representative of unity of thought, purpose, and action; song 7 refers to the final appeal of the Ancient men for supernatural aid. These songs and the wi'-gi-e are of the Ṭsi'-zhu Wa-shta-ge version. (For paraphrase see back of book.)

wa-sha'-be a-thiⁿ, carrying the charcoal. This was the name of a very important part in the formation of a war party. Each warrior was to carry a piece of charcoal in a buckskin pouch with which to blacken his face before attacking the enemy; this war party showed no mercy for the enemy; as the charcoal was a symbol of fire that destroys, so the warrior with blackened face went forth.

wa-sha'-be a-thiⁿ wa-zho-wa-gthe, the title of the two officers chosen

at the ceremonial organization of a war party to accompany the warriors of the two great tribal divisions throughout the great ceremony. The warriors were called Wa-sha'-be a-thiⁿ because they were to carry with them the dark symbolic charcoal by which each warrior who carries a small pouch of it declares his determination to show no mercy to the foe. The warriors of the two great tribal divisions, with their officers, occupy the two large wigwams set up for them to use through the ceremony, which lasts about four days. The two men who accompany the two bodies of warriors bear the title wa-zho'-wa-gthe, Accompanying the Warriors.

Wa-xthe'-thoⁿ-ba, Two-standards. Female personal name.

wa-xthe'-xthe, a war standard. The standards were made for a regularly organized war party composed of all the warriors of the tribe. The office of making these standards belonged to the Bow makers of the Wa-zha'-zhe subdivision of the Hoⁿ-ga tribal division. The standard was made of a slender pole shaped with a crook at the top; a long strip of swan skin, from which all the coarse feathers were taken, leaving only the down on the skin, was then wound around the pole so as to cover every part of it; pendants made of bunches of eagle feathers were fastened to the swanskin covering. When a fight took place the warriors left the standards with the slain foe. These standards are the ceremonial property of both the E-noⁿ Miⁿ-dse ʒoⁿ (Bow) and the Wa-ça'-be (Black Bear) gentes, for the reason that these two hold the property right to the materials to be used in the construction of the standards.

wa-xthe'-xthe-stse-dse, a tall standard made by the Osage, also by the Kaw and the Omaha.

wa-xthe'-xthe-ts'-iⁿ sha, the standard made with a crook by the Osage and Omaha.

Wa-zha'-zhe, the name of the subdivision which refers to the water portion of the earth. It is also a personal name belonging to the Wa-ʒse-ʒsi or Poⁿ-ka Wa-shta-gens. In the mythical story of this gens the people came from the stars to the earth. In their wanderings they came suddenly upon a man who stood in the midst of the waters that rushed noisily over the rocks. The man leading the way turned around and said to his followers: "Here stands Wa-zha'-zhe, a person who has made the waters of the earth his body." The person spoke to the people, saying: "If you make of me your bodies your little ones shall become difficult to be overtaken by death; they shall enable themselves to live to see old age. They shall also come to the days that are beautiful."

The meaning of the name is obscure. Even some of the older Osage fail to give satisfactory interpretation of the name.

Wa-zha'-zhe, name of the Osage Tribe, corrupted by the French to Osage.

Wa-zha'-zhe çka, White Wa-zha'-zhe.

This refers to the Gentile life symbol; the mussel with its shell.

Wa-zha'-zhe Noⁿ-ni-oⁿ-ba, The Sacred Pipe of the Wa-zha-zhe. At the end of the Wa-noⁿ-çe A-ba-çu the Do-doⁿ-hoⁿ-ga takes from the tobacco pouch a sharpened stick and proceeds to dig out the burnt tobacco adhering to the sides of the bowl of the pipe. As he does this he holds the pipe out at arm's length so that the particles of tobacco may drop on the bunches of symbolic grass at his feet, repeating these words: "I give you the sacred tobacco of the Wa-zha-zhe, that is pleasing and satisfying to the sense of smell, to compensate you for the life that you are to give up to me." These bunches of grass, the blades of which represent the lives of the animals and men to be slain by the war party, are what is referred to in the ritual.

zha-be ni u-noⁿ-sho-da bi—zha-be, beaver; ni, water; u-noⁿ-sho-da, make the water dirty with their feet; bi, they: the stirring in the water by the beaver.

zha'-be-ta-zhoⁿ hi, tree of the beaver (Acer negundo).

- zha'-be-ta-zhoⁿ—zha'-be-ta, beavers; zhoⁿ, wood: beaver-wood boxelder (Rulæ negundo).
- zha'-be-wa-tha-k' i-tha, beaver's itch; ringworm (Trichophytosis).
- zha'-be wi^a u-bthiⁿ-ge, moⁿ-çe u-thu bthiⁿ-ge, I caught a beaver in a steel trap.
- zha'-biu-çka, an ant. In the war rites the ant represents the weapons of the warriors. The last act of the great war ceremony when the warriors are about to march against the enemy is performed by the Do-doⁿ-hoⁿ-ga, or chief commander of the army. He recites an ancient ritual by which every chief commander called upon the spirit of the black fighting ant to make unerring and effective the weapons of his warriors and to make certain the overthrow of the foe.
- zha'-biu-çka çà-be, black ant.
- zha'-biu-çka çì, yellow ant.
- zha'-biu-çka zhu-dse, red ant.
- zha-bthiⁿ-ga, a sprout; a shoot from a plant.
- zha'-gi-he, stabbing his horse or any other animal.
- zha'-hiu, Rudbeckia substomeutosa. This plant belongs to the aster family; it is sweet smelling and is used by the Osage for perfumery. In the legend of Çà ga-xe, the Making of the Rush for the shrine that held the sacred hawk, the ceremonial messenger was repeatedly sent out to find some plant that could be used for smoking the shrine. This plant was the second one brought and was rejected by the priests because the smoke from it was too strong to inhale.
- zha'-çe, jack (playing card).
- zha'-pshe, to stab.
zha'-a-pshe, I stabbed him.
zha'-tha-pshe, you stabbed him.
zha'-oⁿ-pshe i, we stabbed him.
- zha'-ça, cloven; parted, as the foot of a deer, buffalo, or cow.
- zha'-zhe a-k'oⁿ-he, a signature— from zha-zhe, name; a-k'oⁿ-he, to sign—to sign name.
- zha-zhe k'i, to dub.
- Zha'-zhe Ki-çoⁿ Wi-gi-e—Zha'-zhe, name; Ki-çoⁿ, taking; wi-gi-e, prayer: prayer for name taking.
- zha'-zhe wa-ho-da, nickname.
- zhe-ga', the upper part of the leg.
- zhe'-ga-ga-stu-dse, disjointing the limbs of a buffalo when butchering.
- zhe-ga' hiu-goⁿ-tha, many legs; the earwig.
- zhe-ga'-u-gthe, the muscles and nerves around the thigh bone; the femoral circumflex.
- zhe-ga u'-çi-tse, knee joint.
- zhe-ga'-u-çoⁿ-ga, the thigh.
- zhe-ga' xthi ba-the, gangrene.
- zhe-ga'-zhiⁿ-ga—zhe-ga, legs; zhiⁿ-ga, little: little legs. This name was given by the Osage to the queen in a deck of cards. It is said that the picture of the queen on the old-style cards was in full figure with very small legs. Thus has the name been applied.
- zhe'-gthoⁿ, to broil meat.
zhe'-a-gthoⁿ, I broiled the meat.
zhe'-tha-gthoⁿ, you broil the meat.
zhe'-tha-gthoⁿ i, we broiled the meat.
- zhi, not.
- zhi'-doⁿ, condensed moisture; dew.
oⁿ-zhi-doⁿ, the dew is on me.
a'-thi-zhi-doⁿ, the dew is on you.
wa'-zhi-doⁿ i, the dew is on us.
- zhi'-hi, reddish; pink.
- zhi'-hi çoⁿ-ga, yellow-billed cuckoo.
- zhiⁿ da, it was not.
- zhiⁿ-ga', small; little children. When used in the ritual its meaning is young, as reference is made to a sapling.
- zhiⁿ-ga' ba-çe'-iⁿ, a suckling; a nursing child.
- zhiⁿ-ga'-e, this term is found in a ritual, meaning little ones. (Compare Zhin'-ga.)
- Zhiⁿ-ga'-ga-hiⁿ-hi-ge, Young-chief. Personal name. This name may be used by permission to honor a child.

zhi^a-ga' o^a-tha, disinherit; to cut off from all family ties and relationships; to deprive one of inheritance.

ni-ka-shi-ga a-ka shi^a-tu zhi^a-ga thi^a-kshe gi o^a-tha bi o, the man disinherited his son.

Zhi^a-ga'-o-xta, Honored little one.

1. At the naming of a child, horses and goods are given. This is done with form and ceremony.

2. U-thu'-pshe, cradle board. This is generally brought by a relative. The father and mother give horses, blankets, etc. The sign of ts'a-zhi is made on the cradle board so that it comes in the middle of the child's back. This is a mode of expressing the wish, by the giver, that the child may live the full length of life; its meaning is never die.

3. Mo'-thi^a, walk. When the child begins to walk a feast is given.

4. No^a-ta'-ba-xtho^a-ge, Piercing the ears of the child. Again a feast is given to all the people and horses and goods are presented.

5. Wa-to^a-wa-ku-bi. This is a feast given in honor of the child, at which time four sacks of wa-sho^a-ge (parched corn) and four mortars are brought in, and when the pounding is completed a Wa-dse'-pa-i^a is sent for, who goes out to collect material for the feast. He sells a horse. Rugs are placed for the persons who are to be given dignified positions wa-to^a-ga; these are two women or two men. These persons must have already gone through all the Zhi^a-ga-o-xta. The four sacks of parched corn make the feast, but other foods are used with it. This corn feast is gone through once a year for four years; this completes the o-xta for the child.

6. Wa-dse'-pa-i^a, servant for the child. When the Ni-ka'-do^a-he have come, they choose a man as a candidate for servant. After he has been told of the selection and is willing, he is brought to a feast. He is made to sit on a robe and is told that he has been chosen to be the Wa-dse'-pa-i^a, that whatever is left over at the feast is for him and his children. To this he says: "Ho-we, I am willing." After this he goes for his horses, returning with two of the best. Upon one he places a bridle and decorates it; on the other he places a saddle and uses it for carrying the food. He is dressed in fine clothes and rides the best of his horses. One is chosen from Ni-ka-do^a-he to tell him he is to go out and call to the chiefs that he has been given four horses. He is told to feast, after the people are told he is coming, and make ready for the feast. He comes to his own home leading the horses. A number of blankets are also given him and they make him feel very happy. This is the beginning of life as an actual servant.

7. I'-e-ki-the, herald. The child must have a herald.

8. Xo'-ka, prompter. The child must have a prompter. At the corn feast a dance is given and the Xo'-ka sings for the dancers. Men and women engage in these dances. This is called the Da'-gthe Wa-tsi, the captive dance.

9. Wa-tho^a-kshe u-gthi^a, presiding over the feasts. When all the foregoing has been gone through by the child, a great feast is given to him by the parents, and the child is called Wa-tho^a-kshe u-gthi^a, ruler of feasts. At this time the captive dance is given; the parents recount the things they have given away at former ceremonies for the child. At the corn festival he may be chosen as one of the Wa-to^a-ga and share in the gifts. When visitors come he is consulted by the chief as to whether they should be received or not; if he approves they are invited in, feasted, and given presents. He is now Ga'-hi-ge, or Wa-no^a-bthe gi-hi-ge. Many gifts are made.

10. Zha'-zhe a-thi^a, new name or title. The child is now ready for a new name or title; during this time many gifts are made.

This concludes the Zhi^a-ga' o-xta.

 zho^{n'}sha-be the hi, dark-wood tree, the redbud. A symbolic term used in a ritual, in tribal war ceremonies. In the evening toward the close of the great war ceremony, two great piles of redbud wood are placed near the two houses of the warriors. At dawn the following morning these two piles are set on fire, and as the flames of the fire leap upward the warriors gather at each of the two fires and a No^{n'}ho^{n'}-zhi^{n'}-ga recites a long ritual, at the close of which he sings a song of many stanzas. When he comes to a certain stanza of the song he makes a motion toward the fire with a war standard; then the warriors rush into the flames, each struggling to seize

 a burning brand. When the struggle is over each warrior scrapes from the charred wood the "mysterious charcoal." This he crushes into powder, which he carefully puts into a little deerskin pouch. When the country of the enemy is invaded and a charge is to be made upon the foe, each warrior blackens his face with the mystic charcoal, by which he expresses his determination to show no mercy to the foe and to expect none from him. The charcoal symbolizes the leaping flames, which know no mercy. Any warrior who neglects to put the symbol on his face when he joins the attack is not awarded honors, although he might have struck many of the enemy warriors.
 zho^{n'}sha-be hi, dark wood; the redbud or Judas tree (Cercis canadensis).

DESCRIPTION OF WI-GI-ES

E-no^{n'} Miⁿ-dse-çoⁿ wi'-gi-e, Ritual of the Owners of the Bow (gens)

This gens is also of the Wa-zha-zhe subdivision and has for its symbol the right side of the river, also the left side of the river, which shall free them from all causes of death. Reference is also made in this ritual to the redfish, the blackfish, the otter, the beaver, and the willow that never dies. These all have a symbolic significance. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 98-100, lines 11-25, 27-30, 32-34, 37-40, 45-48, 67-94.)

Hi'-ça-da Wi-gi-e, Leg Outstretched Ritual or Story

This story refers directly to the eagle leg attached to the wa-xo-be which belongs to the various gens. This is told by the Iⁿ-gthoⁿ-ga (Puma) gens, which is closely related to the Hi'-ça-da gens. In this story reference is made to the difficulties the searcher had for the foe, how he crossed and passed into valleys and after much suffering in body he returns with swift strides, telling of the herds of animals he has found, of great size and curved horns, and of people he saw tattooed, who were supplied with sharp weapons, and they saw he was alarmed, so the antlers of the deer were made to symbolize the weapons as they traveled through life.

Hoⁿ'-ba Tha-gthiⁿ Wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Peaceful Day gens

This gens is of the Tsi'-zhu division and has for its life symbols the earth, the overreaching sky. These signify that all anger and violence have been removed. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 127, lines 80-94.)

Hoⁿ'-be'-çu Wi-gi-e, Moccasin Ritual

This ritual is the Tsi'-zhe Wa-noⁿ version of the Ni-ki rites. Reference is made to the red and black boulder to be used as foot symbols, so that their feet may not be pierced or bruised as they walk; for strings to their moccasins the red-breasted leech shall be the symbol, which has great strength; also the black-breasted leech shall be used as a symbol for the moccasin string. Throughout the ritual reference is made to the yellow and dark boulder for feet and the yellow and dark breasted leech for strings for the moccasins.

Hoⁿ'-ga A-hiu-ṭoⁿ Wi-gi-e, The Ritual of the Winged Hoⁿ'-ga gens

This gens is of the Hoⁿ'-ga subdivision. In its ritual reference is made to its life symbols, the golden eagle, the bird without a stain, which is a means of protection to the people of this gens. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 104-105, lines 8-32.)

Hoⁿ'-ga U-ṭa-noⁿ-dsi Wi-gi-e, The Ritual of the Isolated Hoⁿ'-ga

This gens is one of the Wa-shta-ge subdivision, and among their life symbols mention is made in the ritual of the tse'-xo-be (the spider) and refers to the snare it makes to entrap; other symbols are mentioned in this ritual, as the buffalo bull, the spreading adder, the bull snake, the blacksnake, and the rattlesnake. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 102-104, lines 13-16, 22-27, 32-37, 42-49, 53-59, 63-82.)

Hoⁿ' I-ni-ka-shi-ga Wi-gi-e, The Ritual of the Night People gens

This gens is of the T̄si'-zhu division. In this ritual reference is made to the Black Bear as a life symbol, and the symbol of the charcoal is to be the black on the bear's feet, on his nose, and that part of his body having black spots. The Wa-ça'-be-ṭoⁿ gens of the Hoⁿ'-ga subdivision also used these as their symbols. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 123-124, lines 8-24.)

I'-ba-ṭse Ṭa-dse Wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Winds gens

This gens is of the Hoⁿ'-ga subdivision. This gens has as its life symbol the Hoⁿ'-ga Gthe-zhe (the great spotted eagle), which signifies that they shall win compassion and their prayers shall be granted. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 118, lines 11-22.)

Iⁿ-gthoⁿ'-ga Wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Puma gens

This gens is of the Hoⁿ'-ga subdivision. The life symbol of this gens is the puma (male). It is closely related to the sun, the great life symbol, and the relentless fire of which the charcoal is emblematic. Reference in the ritual is made to the great red boulder, a symbol of power and strength; the male star and the white boulder and numerous plants are taken as symbols of power and strength. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 108, lines 8-11, 16-24; p. 109, lines 51-59.)

Ki'-noⁿ wi-gi-e, Painting Ritual

This is the version of the T̄si'-zhe division. In this ritual is a reference to the arranging of four stones and the gathering of small dead branches, placing them in the crevices of the stones and setting fire to them; the black sky became aglow with red; this was the symbol color for painting the face. Reference is made to the red shield which shall protect the people as they come against the enemy. At the close of this ritual three songs are sung which relate to the actions of the persons going through the ceremony, appealing to the living Power. The second ritual recited after songs of the symbols contains references to the hair of the young buffalo that is to be used as symbols for the girdle, and around the neck; the mussel shell is to be the symbol for the gorget pendant, and the waves, the hollow bed, and the ripples of the river are to be the life symbols for calm and peaceful days as the people reach old age. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 247, 286)

Mi-ḱ'iⁿ'wa-noⁿ Wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Sun Carrier gens

This gens is of the T̄si'-zhu division and has for its life symbol the god of day and the god of night, the male star, the evening star, and the rays (six) of the sun, for counting the war honors accurately. Like the Tsi-zhu Wa-noⁿ, the sun is the life symbol and the rays are for the accurate counting. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 122-123, lines 6-15, 19-27, 30-36, 39-44, 48-58.)

Moⁿ'-shkoⁿ Wi'-gi-e, The Ritual of the Crawfish gens

These people are of the Hoⁿ'-ga subdivision. In their ritual reference is made to the life symbol as the Crawfish, who gave to the people four different colored clays for symbolie use in the war ceremonies. Reference is also made in the ritual to the cloven hand (claw), which shall be a symbol of the forked poles that may be used for any purpose, when going against the enemy. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 116-118, lines 27-31, 38-42, 45-50, 55-59, 63-66, 71-78.)

Moⁿ-thiⁿ'-the-doⁿ-ts'a-ge Wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Aged Pelican

This is one of three rituals in the Noⁿ'-zhiⁿ-zhoⁿ Wi-gi-e Ritual of the Chief's Vigil and refers to a mystical revelation during the night; in this reference is made to the pelican, the life symbol of the Chief of the Hoⁿ-ga tribal division; the second wi-gi-e is entitled Hoⁿ-ga Wa-gthiⁿ-ts'a-ge, The Very Aged Eagle, which is also a symbolic bird of this tribe; and the third wi-gi-e is entitled the Moⁿ-çe Wi-gi-e, or the Metal Ritual, and refers to steel needles or awls as scarifiers instead of wing bones of the two birds.

Ni'-ka Wa-koⁿ-da-gi Wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Men of Mystery gens

This is one of the Tsi'-zhu division. In this ritual mention is made of the red metal, the loose, black, and rough metal, the yellow metal, and the flint corn and hailstones to be used as symbols for a long life. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 133, lines 9-12, 16-19, 24-29, 33-36, 44-51.)

Ni'-ki Noⁿ-k'oⁿ rite, The Hearing of the Sayings of the Ancient Men

This degree ceremony belongs to the Iⁿ-gthoⁿ'-ga (Puma) gens and the version is by that gens. Other gens have the rite but under different title. This being an exceptionally long ritual, only reference to certain parts can be given. In all the symbols mentioned there is a reference to long life, peaceful and calm days, and abundance of food. Following are some of the symbols: The god of day; the stages of life; the god of night; the morning and evening star; the immature golden eagle; the radiant star, to represent the upper region, the sky. Those representing the water are the water spider, the water beetle, and the white leech. The earth is represented by the Great Elk, who calls to the four winds. The Little earth brings forth four kinds of soil—the dark, the blue, the red, and the yellow—of which the people are to make their symbols; also the earth brings forth four bowlders, symbols of power—the red, the black, the white, and the yellow bowlders. The soft yellow and the friable rock are also to be used as symbols; the roots and plants were brought forth to be used as symbolic food. Thus in this wi-gi-e we find many symbols used for long life.

Ni'-ki No"-k'o" Wi-gi-e, Rite of the Hearings of the Sayings of the Ancient Men

This is the version of the Wa-ça'-be gens. In this wi-gi-e the Black Bear gens does not mention the four great gods, nor the eagle as leading the people down from the sky; neither is mention made of the Radiant Star, but the Puma acts as messenger in this gens version. Reference is made to the Great Elk as the being who made the waters to depart and gave the four colored soils of the earth—the dark, the red, the blue, and the yellow—while the Puma version gives the Crawfish as the doner of these soils; in this version of the rite the neck of the white swan is to be the symbolic war standard of the people; the Puma gens makes the antlers of the deer to be the standard.

No"-ni' A-tha-shu-dse Wi'gi-e, Ritual of the Four Symbolic Animals (T'si'zhu Wa-shta-ge)

Ho! What shall they use as a symbol of their courage, said the people.
The little mottled lynx,

Which they knew to be great in courage they chose to use as a symbol,
Saying that if they use the lynx as a symbol of courage,
They shall become known for their valor.

Then the lynx spake, saying: Behold my hands in which there is strength.

When they use these hands as symbols of strength,
Their hands shall ever be upon the foe.

At break of day,

Within the bend of a river,

The lynx suddenly rushed forth to an attack,

Upon a young deer,

Which he threw to the ground, where it lay lifeless and bent,

Whereupon he uttered a cry of triumph,

And spake, saying: Thus shall the little ones utter a cry of triumph
over the fallen foe.

Thus he made four cuts to stand for all time.

Ho! What shall they use as a symbol of their courage, the people said.
The gray wolf,

Which they knew to be great in courage, they chose to use as a symbol,
Saying that if they use the gray wolf as a symbol of courage
They shall become known for their valor.

Then the gray wolf spake, saying: Behold my hands in which there is strength.

When they use these hands as symbols of strength,
Their hands shall ever be upon the foe.

At break of day,

Within the bend of a river,

The gray wolf suddenly rushed forth to an attack,

Upon a deer with spiked horns,

Which he threw to the ground, where it lay bent and lifeless,

Whereupon he uttered a cry of triumph,

And spake, saying: Thus shall the little ones utter a cry of triumph
over the fallen foe.

Thus he made four cuts to stand for all time to come.

Ho! What shall they use as a symbol of their courage, said the people.

The male puma,

Which they knew to be great in courage, they chose to use as a symbol,

Saying that if they use the puma as a symbol of courage,

They shall become known for their valor.

The puma spake, saying: Behold these hands in which there is strength.

When they use these hands as symbols of strength,

Their hands shall ever be upon the foe.

At break of day,

The puma rushed forth to an attack,

Within the bend of a river,

Upon a deer with dark horns,

Which he threw to the ground, where it lay bent and lifeless,

Whereupon he uttered a cry of triumph,

And spake, saying: Thus shall the little ones utter a cry of triumph
over the fallen foe.

Thus he made four cuts to stand for all time.

What shall they use as a symbol of their courage, the people asked.

The male black bear that is without blemish,

Which they knew to be great in courage, they chose to use as a symbol,

Saying, that if they use the black bear as a symbol of courage,

They shall become known for their valor.

The black bear spake, saying: Behold my hands in which there is strength.

When they use these hands as symbols of strength,

Their hands shall ever be upon the foe.

The black bear rushed to the forest,

Where stood a hummock of some size,

Which he tore apart,

And all the insects dwelling therein

He crushed between his teeth,

Whereupon he uttered a cry of triumph,
 And spake, saying: Thus shall the little ones utter a cry of triumph over the fallen foe, as they travel the path of life.

Thus he made four cuts to stand for all time.

(See 39th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 245-247, lines 1-60.)

LEGENDS

Çka'-gthe, the White Plume (Tsi'-zhu version)

Of the god of day,
 I, as a person, have made my symbol.
 There is a god who never fails to appear at the beginning of day,
 The god who lies as though dipped in red (dawn).
 Of that god I have made my symbol.
 By the side of the god who never fails to appear (the sun).
 Even at his left side,
 Stands a plumelike shaft of light.
 Of this plume I have made my symbol.
 When the little ones make their plumes of this shaft of light,
 They shall live to see old age.
 Having their plumes like the shaft of light,
 Their symbolic plumes shall never droop.
 Also at the right side of the god who never fails to appear (the sun)
 Stands another plumelike shaft of light.
 When the little ones use these shafts of light,
 Their symbolic plumes shall never droop as they travel the path of life.
 (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 126, lines 57-80.)

Ho^{n'}-ba tha-gthiⁿ, Peaceful days

I, as a person, make my abode in the days that are peaceful and calm.
 When the little ones make of me their symbols,
 They shall also dwell as a people in the days that are calm and peaceful.
 I have removed all signs of anger.
 With me as their symbol
 They shall be able to remove from the gods
 All sign of anger.
 Even from the god of daylight have I removed all anger and violence.
 Verily from all the gods have I removed all anger.
 So when the little ones make of me their symbol They shall enable themselves to remove all anger and violence as they travel the path of life.
 (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 127, lines 81-102.)

Ho'-ba wa-çu, God of cloudless day

To the god of cloudless day the people spake,
 Saying: O grandfather,
 The little ones have nothing of which to make a symbol.
 He replied, saying: I am the only great god;
 They shall make of me their symbol.
 Then shall they enable themselves to see old age.
 The four divisions of days (stages of life)
 They shall enable themselves to reach and enter,
 Their days shall be calm and peaceful.

(See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 148, lines 11-27.)

Mi-xa çka, the great white swan (version of the Puma gens)

There is the great white swan;
 Of this shall the little ones make their symbol,
 The great white swan spake, saying: When the little ones make of me their symbols
 Let them know that of all living creatures
 None are equal in strength of wings.
 When I make a flight, even before half of the day has passed,
 I am on the further side of the lake,
 Swinging up and down upon the waves of the water.
 When the little ones make of me their symbols,
 Their arms shall become strong as are my wings.
 To the four great divisions of the days (stages of life)
 They shall succeed in bringing themselves,
 They shall enable themselves to live to see old age,
 By making of me their symbols,
 They shall see old age as they travel the path of life.

(See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 77, lines 84-98.)

Mo"-hi' çs'a-zhi, Grass that never dies (Sedge)

Behold the grass that never dies (the sedge);
 When the little ones make of it the means to reach old age,
 They shall always live to see old age.
 I, myself, have made it to be the means to reach old age.
 Behold the bend of my shoulders (Drooping sedge),
 Behold the white blossoms on the top of the stalks,
 Which I have made to be the means of reaching old age.
 The little ones shall reach old age
 And see their scanty locks turn yellowish with age
 As have these blossoms.
 With me as their symbol the little ones shall reach old age.

(See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 95, lines 25-34.)

Moⁿ-koⁿ' Ni-ka-shi-ga, Man Medicine (Cucurbita perennis)

In the presence of the Moⁿ-koⁿ' Ni-ka-shi-ga, Man Medicine,
 They came and stood,
 Saying: Shall this plant be a medicine to the little ones.
 The grandfather replied: When the little ones use this plant as medicine
 They shall live to see old age.
 When the people use this plant also for medicine,
 They shall enable themselves to see old age.

Oⁿ-poⁿ Toⁿ-ga, the Great Elk

The puma came suddenly upon the male elk,
 Who stood upon the earth.
 He returned in haste to his elder brothers,
 Who said to him: O younger brother!
 He replied: O elder brothers, I went forth and came upon a man who stands there.
 In response they said to him,
 Whomever the man may be who stands yonder,
 We will send him to the abode of the spirits.
 With heads bent they hastened to the man,
 With the index finger moistened in the mouth, they were ready to slay the stranger.
 Quickening their footsteps they went forth,
 With heads inclined they stood before him.
 The male elk hastened to say,
 I am a Hoⁿ'ga,
 I am O-poⁿ Toⁿ-ga, the great elk,
 I am a person who is never absent from an important act.
 O'poⁿ Toⁿ-ga, great elk,
 Is a name that I have taken to myself.
 I am a person who can be made use of as a symbol.
 In the midst of the east wind,
 In the midst of the north wind,
 He threw himself upon the earth.
 As he stood the sky became calm and peaceful,
 And gentle as though touched with gentle hands.
 As he threw himself in the midst of the north wind,
 He swept away all traces of anger
 From the god above (Overarching heaven).
 Throwing himself upon the earth,
 In the midst of the south wind,
 He cleansed the land, from every part of the earth,
 Of all anger.

Again he threw himself upon the earth.
 When he arose to his feet,
 He left the surface of the earth covered with the hairs of his body.
 These, he said, are the grasses of the earth;
 I have scattered them so that the animals may appear in their midst.
 Once more he threw himself upon the earth.
 When he arose he stood with his rumps toward the people,
 Saying: These ball-like muscles of my rumps,
 They are the round hills of the earth,
 Behold the right side of my body,
 It is the level lands of the earth.
 Behold the ridge of my back,
 It is the ridge of the earth.
 Behold the curve of my neck,
 It is the gaps in the ridges of the earth.
 Behold the tip of my nose,
 It is the peaks of the earth.
 Behold the bases of my antlers,
 They are the loose rocks of the earth.
 Behold the branches of my antlers,
 They are the branches of the rivers.
 Behold the small tines of my antlers,
 They are the creeks of the earth.
 Behold the large tines of my antlers,
 They are the large streams that are dotted here and there with forests.
 Behold the largest part of my antlers,
 They are the rivers.
 All these I have made my body to represent.
 When the little ones go forth to hunt,
 Even before the break of day,
 They shall see the animals appear,
 And in the evening of the day
 They shall always see the animals appear.
 All the people shall make use of me as a symbol.

(See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 113, lines 7-106.)

She'-ki, Rattlesnake (Life symbol)

The great snake (rattle)
 From amidst the bunches of tall grass
 Caused itself to be heard by making a buzzing sound.
 Then it spake, saying:
 Even though the little ones pass into the realms of spirits,
 They shall, by clinging to me and using my strength, recover consciousness.
 The great snake

Made a sound like the blowing wind
 Close to the feet (of the sick).
 He repeatedly sounded his rattle as he stood.
 Close to the head (of the sick)
 He repeatedly sounded his rattle.
 Toward the east winds
 He repeatedly sounded his rattle
 Toward the west winds
 He repeatedly sounded his rattle.
 Toward the winds from the cedars (the north)
 He repeatedly sounded his rattle.
 Then spake, saying: Even though the little ones pass into the realm of spirits,
 They shall always with my aid bring themselves back to consciousness.
 When the little ones make of me their symbols,
 The four divisions of the days
 They shall reach successfully,
 And then into the days of peace and beauty
 They shall always make their entrance.

(See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 104, lines 62-87.)

Ṭse' wa-the, root of the Nelumbo lutea

The Puma strode away forthwith
 And came to the middle of the lake,
 Where, within its bed of mud, lay the ṭse' wa-the.
 With a quick movement of his foot he lifted the root from its bed of soft earth.
 Then in haste he brought it home to the people,
 Saying: How will this serve as a symbol, O elder brothers?
 With eager haste the people munched the root,
 And, like milk, its juice squirted out as they pressed it between their teeth.
 They spake, saying: It is fit for the little ones to use as food.
 The little ones shall use this for food.
 The people of the Wa-zha'-zhe, those of the Ṭsi'-zhu,
 Shall always use this root for food.
 The people said to one another: Verily, we shall make the young bull
 And this plant to be companions, O younger brothers.
 When the little ones eat of these foods,
 Their limbs shall always stretch in growth.

(See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 111, lines 121-140.)

U'-xthi-thiⁿ-ge, No Anger

The Ṭsi'-zhu, a people who possess seven fireplaces,
 Spake to one of the Ṭsi'-zhu (gentes),

Saying: Verily, a person (gens) who stands having no anger or violence.
O grandfather, the little ones have nothing of which to make their symbols.

No Anger (the subgens of that name) replied:

I am a person (a people) of whom the little ones may well make their symbols.

I am a person whose being abides in the moist, vibrating air of the earth.

When the little ones make of me their symbols,

They shall enable themselves to become a people of moist, vibrating air of the earth;

Their days shall be calm and peaceful.

Wa-ça'-be ni-dse hi-wa-çpe, hibernating of the Black Bear (Life symbol)

Verily at that time and place,

Close to the period of the seven moons,

The Black Bear sat to rest her body.

As she sat she thought: Even now I have reached the end of a great division of days.

In every direction she heard the voices of birds,

Heard them calling to one another as she sat.

Again she thought, I have reached the end of a division of days.

Swarms of little insects,

She saw swiftly flying hither and thither in the air;

Again she thought of the great division of days,

Saying: Behold I have come to Wa-ko^w-da;

These little ones

Must dwell in the great division of days.

Gathering them (the little ones) up in her arms,

She held them up to the great god of day, newly risen,

Saying, O Venerable Father! these little ones have now become persons;

Give them strength to bring themselves to see old age as they travel the path of life.

(See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 78, lines 40-59.)

Wa-ko^w-da Hiu-dse' ʔa, the goddess of the lower region (earth)

The people spake to the goddess of the lower region,

Saying: O grandmother,

The little ones have nothing of which to make their symbols.

The goddess of the lower region (earth) replied:

The little ones shall make of me their symbols.

When they make of me their symbols,
 They shall enable themselves to see old age,
 And verily, an unbroken line of descendants they shall live to see.
 When the people of the Wa-zha' zhe, the Ho^{n'}-ga and the Tsi' zhu
 Make of me their symbols,
 Children, in an unbroken line of births, they shall live to see.
 The four great divisions of the days,
 They shall enable themselves to reach and enter,
 The days that are calm and peaceful,
 They shall enable themselves to reach and enter.

(See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 149, lines 64-78.)

Wa-ko^{n'}-da Hoⁿ-noⁿ-pa-ge, the goddess of darkness

The people spake to the goddess of darkness,
 Saying: O grandmother,
 The little ones have nothing of which to make their symbols.
 Quickly the goddess of darkness replied, O little ones,
 You say the little ones have nothing of which to make their symbols.
 The little ones shall make their symbols of me;
 They shall then enable themselves to live to see old age.
 The people of the Wa-zha'-zhe, the Hoⁿ-ga, and the Tsi'-zhu
 Shall make of me their symbols.
 When they make of me their symbols,
 The four great divisions of the days
 They shall enable themselves to reach and enter.
 Little Ones,
 An unbroken line of descendants they shall live to see,
 In the days that are calm and peaceful,
 They shall abide as a people.

(See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 148, lines 30-49.)

Wa-ko^{n'}-da Moⁿ-shi-ta, God of the upper region (sky)

The people spake to the god of the upper region (Sky),
 Saying: O grandfather,
 The little ones have become a people.
 The god of the sky replied: The little ones shall make of me their symbols;
 Then shall they enable themselves to live to see old age.
 So shall the Wa-zha'-zhe, the Ho^{n'}-ga, and the Tsi'-zhu,
 By making of me their symbols,
 Live to see old age.

(See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 149, lines 50-60.)

Wa'-noⁿ-sdo-dse Wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Act of Slipping off the Moccasins
(Puma gens)

Upon what shall we slip off our moccasins?
Toward the setting of the sun,
There is an adolescent youth.
Upon whom we shall always slip off our moccasins.
When we slip off our moccasins upon the adolescent youth
We shall make it possible to slip off with ease our moccasins.
Upon what shall we slip off our moccasins?
Toward the setting of the sun,
There is an adolescent maiden
Upon whom we shall always slip off our moccasins.
When we slip off our moccasins upon the adolescent maiden,
We shall make it possible to slip off with ease our moccasins, my younger brothers.
Upon what shall we slip off our moccasins?
Toward the setting of the sun,
There is a man honored for his military prowess,
Upon whom we shall always slip off our moccasins.
When we slip off our moccasins upon the man honored for his military prowess,
We shall make it possible to slip off with ease our moccasins.
Upon what shall we slip off our moccasins?
Toward the setting of the sun.
There is a woman who has given birth to her first child,
Upon whom we shall always slip off our moccasins.
When we slip off our moccasins upon the woman who has given birth to her first child,
We shall make it possible to slip off with ease our moccasins, my younger brothers, they said to one another.

PARAPHRASES OF WI-GI-ES

Oⁿ-ba Tha'gthiⁿ Wi'gi-e, Ritual of Peaceful Day (of the Tsi'zhu gens)

Verily, my abode is in the days that are calm and peaceful.
When the little ones make of me their symbols (their life),
They shall become a people of the days that are ever serene.
From each of the great gods
I verily remove all traces of anger and violence.
When the little ones make of me their symbols,
They shall have power to remove from the gods
All anger and the desire for destruction.
From the god of the lower world (the earth);
From the god of light who standeth in the midst of heaven;
From the god of the upper world (the overreaching sky),

I have power to remove all anger and violence.
 When the little ones make of me their symbols,
 They also shall have power to remove from the gods all anger.
 When the little ones of the Wa-zha'-zhe (subdivision)
 And those of the Ho'ga (subdivision)
 Make of me their symbols,
 They shall have power to remove from all lands,
 All anger, hatred, and violence.

(No Anger is also my name.)

I am a person of whom the little ones may well make their symbols.
 My abode is in the midst of the earth's warm, quivering air.
 When the little ones make of me their symbols,
 They shall become a people of the earth's quivering air.
 Verily in the days that are gentle and peaceful,
 I make my abode.

When the little ones make of me their symbols,
 They shall become a people of the days that are gentle and peaceful.
 Of a little yellow flower,
 I have made my body;
 The little Ba-shta', that stands amidst the winds,
 I have made to be my body.

When the little ones make of the Ba-shta' their symbols,
 They shall live together without anger, without hatred.

O-po^a Wi-gi-e, The Ritual of the Elk gens

This gens is of the Ho'ga subdivision and has the Great Elk as its life symbol. It is a symbol of the entire earth and was instrumental in making it a suitable abode. In the ritual he causes the waters to recede and the land to appear and become habitable; he makes the grasses to grow so that animals may become plentiful for the benefit of man; the elk is a symbol in the rites pertaining both to peace and war. It is the symbol of the Wa-zha'-zhe and Tsi'-zhu people. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 113-115.)

Pe'xe Thu-ça bi Wi'-gi-e, Ritual of the Taking up the Rattle (Puma gens)

What shall they use for a rattle? the people said.
 It is a head that they shall use as a rattle.
 Verily, it is not a head that is spoken of.
 The male puma that lies outstretched upon the earth,
 It is his head
 That they shall use as a rattle.
 When they shall use the head of the male puma as a rattle,
 And go toward the setting sun, against their enemies,
 They shall, by its use, easily overcome their foes.

What shall they use for seeds (gravel put into the gourd) for the rattle?
The male puma that lies outstretched upon the earth,
It is the teeth of his right jaw,
That they shall use as seeds for their rattles.
When they use the teeth of the male puma as seeds for their rattles,
Then, indeed, the sound of their rattles shall be clear.
What shall they use as a handle for their rattle?
The male puma that lies outstretched upon the earth,
It is his right foreleg
That they shall use for a handle for their rattle.
When they use the lower right leg of the male puma as a handle for their rattle,
They shall make themselves to be free from all causes of death.

Behold the fine dust within the rattle;
That fine dust also
Is not without a purpose.
Toward the setting of the sun
There are people who possess things that are numerous.
Verily I have made this dust to represent all those things.

Behold the opening at the top of the rattle.
That opening also
Is not made without a purpose,
The little insects (all living creatures),
It matters not whose little ones they may be,
We shall cause them to fall into this opening, as though into a snare.

They gave a menacing stroke to the rattle.
Toward the setting of the sun,
Toward the adolescent youth who dwells in that direction,
They gave a menacing stroke,
And said: When they give a menacing stroke such as this,
They shall strike with ease their enemies.
When they conjure their enemies with the rattle,
They shall conjure them with ease, O younger brothers.

For a second time they gave a menacing stroke with the rattle.
Toward the setting of the sun,
Toward the adolescent maiden who dwells in that direction,
They gave a menacing stroke,
And said: When they give a menacing stroke such as this,
They shall strike with ease their enemies.
When they conjure their enemies with the rattle,
They shall conjure them with ease.

For a third time they gave a menacing stroke with the rattle.
 Toward the setting of the sun,
 Toward the man who is honored for his military prowess, who dwells
 in that direction,
 They gave a menacing stroke,
 And said: When they give a menacing stroke such as this,
 They shall strike with ease their enemies.
 When they conjure their enemies with the rattle,
 They shall conjure them with ease.

For the fourth time they gave a menacing stroke with their rattle.
 Toward the setting of the sun,
 Toward the woman who has given birth to her first child, who dwells
 in that direction,
 They gave a menacing stroke,
 And said: When they give a menacing stroke such as this,
 They shall strike with ease their enemies with the rattle.
 When they conjure their enemies with the rattle, as they travel the path of life,
 They shall conjure them with ease, O younger brothers.

Ṭa I-ni-ka-shi-ga Wi'-gi-e, The Ritual of the Deer People

These are of the Wa-zha-zhe subdivision, and their ritual refers to the little animal (the deer) as the symbol of which they are to make their bodies. The various parts of the deer are referred to as proper symbols for the people of the seven fireplaces to take for power to overcome the enemy. Reference is also made to the oak trees and the bunches of grass found where the deer has trod. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 96-97, lines 10-79, 92-98.)

Ṭa Wa-tho^a, Deer Songs

These songs are part of the Ni-ki No^a-k'o^a rite and belong to the I^a-gtho^a-ga (Puma) gens and is their version. There are six of these songs and they follow the ritual of the Hearing of the Sayings of the Ancient Men. The first song refers to the hunter as he stands waiting for the deer, while the sister remains at home wishing a doe might be shot by the brother; the second refers to the anxiety and hope that the brother will succeed; the third refers to the relief of mind, as the sister thinks of the actual shooting of a deer by her brother; the fourth refers to the wounding of a deer by the hunter as he pursues it; the fifth refers to the cutting of the skin of the deer into shape for clothing; and the sixth refers to the success of the hunter. The mention of sister and brother in these songs is in the generic sense only.

Tho'-xe Pa thi-hoⁿ Wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Buffalo Bull gens

This is of the T̄si'-zhu division. In the ritual reference is made to the thrusting of a red plume, by the T̄si'-zhu Wa-shta-ge, into a Buffalo Bull, who was subdued and is called Tho'-xe, and who, being personified, speaks to the people, and with quick motion brings forth certain bulbous roots, which shall be not only symbolic medicine but also used as sacred names by them. These symbols shall be for long life to those who use them. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 134-135, beginning line 9.)

Toⁿ-woⁿ A-doⁿ-be wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Overseer of the Village

In this wi-gi-e (ritual) there are five parts; in the first, reference is made to the priestly office; the second is an appeal to the god of cloudless day, which is pure and free from anger and hatred; the third is an address to the goddess of darkness, who possesses the power of reproduction, and the people appeal to her for aid, so that the little ones may be able to reach maturity successfully; the fourth is an appeal to the god of the upper region (sky). To him the people appeal for aid in leading others along paths of peace. The fifth and last part of the ritual is an appeal to the goddess of the lower region (earth), who possesses power to bring forth life. The people appeal to her for peace and prosperity. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 147-151, lines 11-18, 30-46, 50-55, 64-82.)

T̄se-do'-ga Iⁿ-dse, The Buffalo Face gens

This gens is of the T̄si'-zhu division. It has no ritual, but its presence is necessary in this ceremony to complete the tableau of the sky, the great bodies that move therein, and the animal life in the earth to which they are related. This gens occupies the second place in the ceremonial order of the gentes composing the T̄si'-zhu division, but its members remain silent throughout the ceremony. The office of this gens is to perform the ceremony of cutting into shape the symbolic buffalo-skin moccasins and to recite the wi-gi-e relating to them.

T̄se Mi-ga Wi'-gi-e, The Ritual of the Female Buffalo

O younger brothers,
 The little ones have no ceremonial articles.
 Then to the one who had made of the Puma his body,
 They spake, saying: O younger brother,
 We bid you go and search for material for making them.
 As these words were spoken the Puma hastened away.

Then the people spake, saying: There are signs that our younger brother is returning.
 Stumbling again and again as he hastens homeward,
 Some of the brothers hurried to him and spake,
 Saying: O younger brother.
 To their inquiries the Puma replied:
 Verily, an animal of some kind
 Stands yonder, O elder brothers,
 Of formidable appearance, with cloven feet;
 It has horns upon its head.
 Then the people spake to one another, saying: O elder brothers,
 Our younger brother has come home in great alarm.
 He has seen an animal standing yonder
 That is fear-inspiring in appearance,
 An animal with cloven feet and horns upon its head.
 Make haste, said the people;
 We are a people who spare none of the foe,
 A people who are never absent from any important movement.
 It matters not whose little one that animal may be,
 We shall send him to the abode of spirits.
 They moved forward with quickened footsteps.
 At the fourth ceremonial pause,
 The Puma spake, saying: There it stands, O elder brothers.
 The people drew near and stood in line.
 They spake, saying: It is a female;
 We shall make of the animal the sacred articles we need.
 Even its skin
 We shall consecrate to ceremonial use, O elder brothers.
 Behold the length of its back, even it is Fit for ceremonial use.
 Out of its skin we shall make ceremonial robes,
 To commemorate the consecration of the skin to ceremonial use.
 We shall take from it a personal name.
 The-sacred-robe shall be the name bestowed upon our little ones.
 Woman-of-the-spine shall also be a personal name.
 The horns also, that spread out, shall be a personal name.
 Even its head shall be referred to in personal name.
 Maker-of-the-head we shall use as a personal name.

Ṭse Tho^o-ka Wi-gi-e, The Ritual of the Buffalo Back gens

This gens is of the Ṭsi'-zhu division. In the ritual mention is made of the Buffalo back as being personified and tells the people to make of him their symbol. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 132, lines 3-11.)

Tse Wa-thoⁿ, Buffalo Songs

This is the opening song in the ceremony of Instructions to the Wife of the Initiate. Reference is made to Wi-tsi'-go (grandfather), which is a term of veneration; the second of these songs relates to the activities of the animal when it has attained maturity. The call in these songs is to the human race as well as to the Initiate and his wife. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 142-143, free translations of songs.)

Tsi'-zhu Wa-noⁿ Wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Elder Household gens

This gens is of the Tsi'-zhu division. The life symbol of this gens is the sun's rays (Mi Ga-gthe-ge). Reference is made in the ritual of this god of day and its thirteen rays, the war symbols of this gens; the morning and evening stars and the pileated woodpecker are also referred to as symbols to be used by the people. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 119-122, lines 9-21, 26-34, 40-51, 58-73.)

Tsi'-zhu We-ha-ge Wi-gi-e, The Ritual of the Last Tsi'-zhu gens

In this wi-gi-e (ritual) reference is made to the life symbol which is the red black bear. As in the rituals of the Wa-qa-be-toⁿ and the Hoⁿ I-ni-ka-shi-ga, so in this of the Tsi'-zhu We-ha-ga mention is made of the dark color of the feet, the tip of the nose, and the dark spots on the body which are to be used as symbols to insure a long life, and of which they are to make their charcoal. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 130-132.)

U'-xthi Thiⁿ-ge Wi-gi-e, The Ritual of the No Anger gens

This gens is of the Tsi'-zhu division. In this ritual reference is made to the Peace Pipe as a life symbol; also reference is made to a little yellow flower; to the red, blue, speckled, and yellow corn as symbolic food for the people, signifying a ripe old age will be reached by them and they will have peace and calmness. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 128-129, lines 123-129, 135-139, 143-151, 154-165.)

Wa-qa'-be-toⁿ Wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Black Bear gens

The symbol of this gens is the Black Bear; of this they are to make their charcoal, which is designated by the black on the feet, the tip of the nose, and the various parts of its body. Mention is also made in this ritual to the White Swan, of which they are to use the black of its feet and the tip of its beak as a symbol for their charcoal. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 105-107, lines 3-34, 50-63.)

Wa-ça'-be Wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Black Bear (a life symbol of the Black Bear gens)

The bear moved on with quickened footsteps
 To a valley where he paused and stood.
 To this time he had not found a place wherein to rest.
 He longed to sit down,
 But moved about perplexed and bewildered.
 He knew he must rest for a period of seven months,
 But knew not where or how.
 He gathered together some small stones
 And arranged them in a pile.
 Seven in number were the stones
 He had gathered together and arranged in a pile
 Whereon to rest.
 Nevertheless he rested not.
 Then, even as he moved away,
 He spake, saying: This act also
 I have not performed without a purpose.
 When the little ones go toward the setting sun against their enemies,
 They shall make use of these stones.
 The little ones of the T̄si'zhu and of the Wa-zha'zhe Shall use these stones to purify their bodies by heating them (the ceremonial vapor bath).
 When they use these stones for purifying their bodies,
 They shall be free from all causes of death.
 When they use them in their supplications for aid to overcome their enemies,
 They shall enable themselves to overcome their enemies with ease.
 The Bear moved on with quickened footsteps
 To the top of a rocky cliff,
 To the entrance of a cave where he paused and stood.
 To this time he had not found a place wherein to rest.
 But he moved about bewildered;
 For a period of seven moons he must rest.
 He moved close to the house (the cave) and paused.
 Then, into the door, at the right side,
 He partly entered and paused.
 He beheld the interior of a house, mysterious in all its aspects.
 He moved farther into the house and sat down.
 He became conscious of having found for himself a house with a room most pleasing and satisfying,
 Of having come to a house that was mysterious in all its aspects,
 Verily, a house that excluded the light of day he had found.

He thought, Lo, even the door of my dwelling
Is mysterious.
No one can look in and intrude upon me.
He sat down
To rest for a period of seven moons,
And sat undisturbed,
Until six moons had passed;
Then he made a close examination of his body,
Looking carefully over all its parts.
He thought: Lo, my flesh has shrunken to nothing, in the time I have sat here.
Verily, I am a person whom the little ones should make their symbols.
They should make of me an emblem of old age.
Again the Bear examined himself.
Then to the right side of the door of his house
He moved and paused.
He stood gazing upon the land before him.
Verily, he saw the land overspread with a smokelike mist.
He heard the sighing of the winds among the tree tops.
He moved farther out, where he paused and stood,
And the birds
All around him sang,
And he stood listening to the noise of their songs.
The Bear moved forward and placed upon the ground six imprints of his feet,
As symbols of certain deeds most difficult to accomplish.
He did not place the six footprints upon the ground without a purpose.
He spake, saying: Behold I have placed upon the ground six footprints.
Toward the setting of the sun
The little ones shall win o-do^{n'} (military honors).
Verily, I have made these footprints to represent those deeds.
He took one step forward.
Then from there he placed seven footprints upon the ground,
And he spake, saying: These footprints also
I have not placed upon the ground without a purpose.
They are the footprints spoken of as the Seven Footprints.
Verily, I have placed them here to remain for all time to come.
They are the valorous deeds spoken of as o-do^{n'};
These valorous deeds spoken of as the Seven O-do^{n'}
I have verily placed here to remain for all time.

(See 39th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 158-164, lines 117-309.)

Wa'-çi-thu-çe Wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Ceremonial Approach to the Little House

This version is of the T̄si'-zhu division. Reference is made in this ritual to an effort on the part of the people to find a way to guide their footsteps. Wandering about through valleys, toward a river, they finally find the Little House; other efforts were made but each time the footsteps led to the Little House.

Wa-ķe'-stse-dse Wi-gi-e, The Ritual of the Wa-ķe'-stse-dse gens

This ritual refers to the life symbol of the gens as the Cattail (Typha latifolia), the plant that represents the water part of the earth. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 93.)

Wa-țs'e'-the Wa-thoⁿ, Song of Death

This song is sung by the Xo'-ķa of the T̄si'-zhu division, after the recital of the ritual of the Ceremonial Approach. It relates to the one who comes upon them unawares, and makes an attack, and causes them to lie blackening the earth. While this song is being sung the Xo'-ķa moves slowly to his seat in the lodge. Following this song is the K̄i-çtoⁿ Wa-thoⁿ, the Little song of the Gathering, which tells of the principal ones taking their places. Following this comes the ceremony called U'-wa-the-the, the act of sending certain symbolic articles to the various gentes owning them.

Wa'-țse-tsi Wi-gi-e, The Ritual of the Star People, Wa'-țse-tsi gens of the Wa-zha-zhe subdivision

The life symbol with this gens is the female cedar, and as a companion to the red cedar the waters that flow through the valley shall also be a symbol; the grass that never dies (the sedge) is a symbol used by these people, and all of these symbols are referred to in the wi'-gi-e of this gens. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 95, lines 9-24, 25-31.)

Wa-zha'-zhe Çka Wi-gi-e, Ritual of the White Wa-zha'-zhe (water division) gens of the Wa-zha'-zhe subdivision

In this ritual will be found the life symbols used by this gens, which are the mussel (țsiu'-ge) that sits in the water and the god of day, all typifying the length of life. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 94, lines 8-27.)

Wa-zha'-zhe Wa-noⁿ Wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Wa-zha'-zhe Wa-noⁿ gens

This gens has for its life symbol the K̄e Çiⁿ-dse Ga-țse, the Turtle with Serrated Tail. In this ritual the recount of the o-do^{n'} is symbolized by the seven serrations in the turtle's tail, and is expressive of the long life they shall experience^v by using this symbol. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 92, lines 8-35.)

Wa-zhi'-ga pa to'-ga, Wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Long-billed (Pileated)
Woodpecker

There is in existence a long-billed bird;
Of that bird I have verily made my body.
The god of day that sitteth in the heavens,
I have employed this bird to bring hither (symbolize);
Also the god of night that sitteth in the heavens,
And the male star (morning star),
I have employed this bird to bring hither (symbolize).
When the little ones make of that star their symbol,
They shall enable themselves to find spoils in profusion.
When they go toward the setting of the sun against their enemies,
And use the bird in the appeal for aid,
They shall never fail to succeed in their undertakings.
The female star (evening star),
I have employed this bird to bring forth.
As the little ones go toward the setting of the sun,
And use this bird in their appeal for aid,
They shall never fail to succeed.

Wi-gi'-e To'-ga, The Great Ritual

This is recited by the Tsi'-zhu Wa-noⁿ, following the sending of the symbolic articles. The act of reciting belongs to the two keepers of the Tattooing and Great Healing Plant shrines. Reference is made to the various life symbols as the Sho'-ka hastened forth. These are the golden eagle, the white rock, the bowlders, the flint, various trees; also the valleys and the prairies that he traveled over in searching, showing that the sky, the land, the water are all sought in getting the life symbols. At the conclusion of this Great ritual, the O'-poⁿ gens bring water, that the different ones may wash their faces.

Xo'-ka Ki-noⁿ kshi-the Wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Xo-ka symbolic painting
(Wa-ça-be gens)

With what shall the little ones adorn their bodies?
The crimson color of the god of day who sitteth in the heavens,
They shall make to be the sacred color,
The god who redeems the heavens as he approaches.
They shall adorn their bodies with the crimson hue shed by the god of day.
Then shall the little ones be free from all causes of death.
What shall they use for a symbolic plume?
At the right side of the god who comes at the beginning of day,
Is a beam of light that stands upright like a plume,
That they shall make as their sacred plume;

Then their plumes shall never droop for want of strength.
 For a pendant upon the breast of the Xo-ka
 They shall place the shell of the mussel, who sitteth upon the earth.
 It is as the god of day who sitteth in the heavens.
 By pressing this to his breast
 He shall be free from all causes of death.
 What shall the people place upon his wrist?
 It is a bond spoken of as a captive's bond,
 But it is not a captive's bond,
 It is a soul,
 That they shall place upon his wrists.
 What is he upon whom a girdle is to be placed?
 He is a captive; no, it is a spirit.
 Also it is a spirit to whom moccasins are to be given.

(See 39th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 74, lines 1-42.)

Xo'-ka Wi'-gi-e, Ritual of the Xo'ka

This ritual is recited by the Xo'-ka (Initiator) before he paints himself with the charcoal. The first part of the ritual relates to the Black Bear and to certain symbols given to the people; the second part refers to the female black bear when she starts to hibernate and also to her awakening after her long sleep; the third and last part is spoken as the Ki-noⁿ Wi-gi-e. In this is related the manner in which certain symbols are painted upon the face of the Xo'-ka and on his body.

Xu-tha' Zhu-dse Wi-gi-e, Ritual of the Red Eagle gens

This gens is of the Tsi'-zhu division and has as its life symbol the red eagle. Reference is made in the ritual to the parts of the body of the red eagle that may be used as life symbols which will enable the people to have long lives; also reference is made to the dawn as a plumelike shaft of light. (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 124-126, lines 10-52; 60-79.)

Ho'be çu Wi'-gi-e, Ritual of Cutting the Symbolic Moccasin (Puma gens)

The turtle that has a tail with seven serratures,
 We shall make to be the symbol of our foot, O younger brothers.
 When we make this turtle to be the symbol of our foot,
 And go forth against our enemies who dwell toward the setting sun,
 We shall enable ourselves to tread down the harmful grasses.

What shall we make to be a symbol of our moccasin string?
 The garter snake that lies outstretched
 Shall be the symbol of our moccasin string.
 The harmful grasses that lie in our course
 Shall not cut or break our moccasin string.

What shall we make to be the symbol of our knife?
There is the young buffalo bull;
It is his right horn
That shall be a symbol of our knife.
When we make the right horn of the young bull to be a symbol of our knife,
And go against our enemies who dwell toward the setting sun,
Our knife shall always be sharp and ready for use, O younger brothers.
Upon what shall we cut this skin?

Toward the setting of the sun
There is a man of our enemies who is honored for his valor.
It is upon him that we shall cut this skin.
When we do our cutting upon that valorous man,
It shall be easy for us to do our cutting.

The people said,
The turtle that has a tail with six serratures,
We shall make to be a symbol of our foot, O younger brothers.
When we make that turtle to be our foot,
And go forth against our enemies who dwell toward the setting sun,
We shall enable ourselves to tread down the harmful grasses.

What shall we make to be a symbol of our moccasin string?
When we make this snake to be our moccasin string,
The harmful grasses that lie in our course
Shall not break or cut our moccasin string.

What shall we make to be a symbol of our knife?
There is the young buffalo bull;
It is his right horn
That shall be a symbol of our knife.
When we make the right horn of the young bull to be a symbol of our knife,
And go against our enemies who dwell toward the setting of the sun,
Our knife shall always be sharp and ready for use.

Upon what shall we cut the skin?
Toward the setting of the sun
There is a woman of our enemies who has given birth to her first child.
It is upon her that we shall cut this skin.
When we do our cutting upon that woman,
It shall be easy for us to do our cutting, O younger brothers.

Upon what shall we perforate this skin?
 Toward the setting of the sun
 There is an adolescent youth of our enemies.
 It is upon that youth we shall perforate this skin.
 When we perforate this skin upon that youth,
 It shall be easy for us to do our perforating.

Upon what shall we perforate this skin?
 It is the adolescent maiden
 Upon whom we shall perforate this skin.
 When we shall perforate this skin upon that maiden,
 It shall be easy for us to do our perforating.

Upon what shall we perforate this skin, the people asked.
 It is the man of our enemies who is honored for his valor
 Upon whom we shall perforate this skin.
 When we perforate this skin upon the valorous man,
 It shall be easy for us to do our perforating.

Upon whom shall we perforate this skin?
 It is the woman of our enemies who has given birth to her first child
 Upon whom we shall perforate this skin.
 When we perforate this skin upon that woman,
 It shall be easy for us to do our perforating, as we travel the path of life, O younger brothers, they said to one another.
 (See 39th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 63, lines 2-73.)

Ī'no^a Wí'gi-e, The Ritual of Painting the Xo'ka of the Tsi'zhu Wa'no^a

The people spake to one another, saying: What shall the little ones use to paint their bodies?
 They gathered together four stones,
 Which they arranged in a pile, leaning one against the other.
 They gathered together the small dead branches of the surrounding trees
 And broke them to pieces, making a din of crackling sounds.
 They thrust the pieces of dead branches underneath the stones and in the spaces between them.
 They set fire to the pile of dead branches and the stones
 And made the air to tremble and vibrate with the flames and heat.
 The darkened sides of the heavens
 They made to redden with the glow of the flames and the heat.
 They spake to one another, saying: Let the little ones use the fiery glow upon yonder heavens as a paint for their bodies.
 The people of the Tsi' zhu Who Possess Seven Fireplaces

Became stricken with the fiery glow, that left no part of their bodies untouched.

They spake to one another, saying: What beneficent power shall this sacred fire draw toward us?

They said: The red shield,
Let the sacred fire draw toward us.

When the sacred fire draws toward us the red shield,
Then, when our enemies who dwell toward the setting sun
Come against us with weapons in countless numbers,
Their weapons shall fail to strike the little ones.

The red shield,
Let the sacred fire draw toward us.

Then, when our enemies who dwell toward the setting sun
Come against us with sharp weapons standing out from their bodies in countless numbers,
The little ones shall always be able to ward off the weapons, sending them away in forked lines.

The red shield,
Let the sacred fire draw toward us.

Then, when our enemies who dwell toward the setting sun
Come against us with sharp weapons in countless numbers,
The little ones shall always be able to ward off the weapons, making them to glance away on either side.

The red shield,
Let the sacred fire draw toward us.

Then when our enemies who dwell toward the setting sun
Come against us with sharp weapons in countless numbers,
We shall be able to ward off the weapons of our enemies, they said to one another.

(See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 242-243.)

Ķi'no^a Wi'gi-e, The ritual for decorating the Xo'ka with sacred symbols
(Ṭsi'zhu Wa'noⁿ)

They spake to one another, saying: What shall the little ones use for a girdle?

The hair of the young buffalo
They shall use as a girdle.

When the little ones use the hair of the young buffalo as a girdle,
They shall free themselves from all causes of death.

They spake to one another, saying: What shall the little ones use for a neckband?

The hair of the young buffalo
They shall use as a neckband.

When the little ones use the hair of the young buffalo as a neckband,

They shall have a neckband that will free them from all causes of death.

They spake to one another, saying: Behold this mussel shell,
Which the little ones shall use as a gorget pendant.

It was the mussel

Who traveled up the river, forcing his way against the current,
When coming to a shallow part of the river he said: Behold these rushing waters,

I have not made them without a purpose.

I have made them to be the means of reaching old age.

When the little ones use these waters, they shall free themselves from all causes of death.

Behold the waves of the river,

I have made them to be the means of reaching old age.

When the little ones make of me their symbols,

They shall live to see old age.

Behold the hollow bed of the river,

I have not made it without a purpose.

When the little ones make of it the hollow of their own bodies,

They shall free the hollow of their bodies from all causes of death.

Behold the swift current of the river,

I have not made it without a purpose.

When the little ones make of it their windpipe,

They shall free their windpipe from all causes of death.

Behold the ripples upon the surface of the river,

I have not made them without a purpose.

When the little ones make of me their bodies,

They shall always live to see their breasts wrinkled with age.

He spake again, saying: And it so happens

That in my travel I come to the days that are calm and peaceful.

So shall it happen with the little ones; they shall also reach and enter the days that are calm and peaceful.

(See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 247, lines 2-37.)

Mi Wi'gi-e, The Sun Ritual (Tsi'zhu Wa'noⁿ)

The god that never fails to appear at the beginning of day

Has upon its left side

Six rays that are like stripes in appearance.

These six rays

I have made to be symbols,

Symbols of the valorous deeds spoken of as o-do^{n'}.

When the little ones make of these six rays the symbols of their
o-do^{n'},

They shall enable themselves to count with accuracy their o-do^{n'}.

Upon the right side of that god there are seven rays that are in appearance like stripes.

These seven rays also

I have made to be symbols,

Symbols of the valorous deeds spoken of as o-do^{n'}.

I have made all of these six and seven rays to be symbols of the valorous deeds spoken of as o-do^{n'}.

When the little ones use these rays for counting their o-do^{n'} as they travel the path of life,

They shall enable themselves to count with accuracy their o-do^{n'}.

(See 39th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 170-171, lines 2-16.)

Mí'xa-çka Wi-gi'e (White Swan Ritual), a life symbol of the Wa-ça'be (Black Bear) gens

We have no ceremonial articles;

Let search be made for materials to be used in making them.

They moved forward and spake to one who had made of the Puma his body,

Saying: O younger brother,

Go thou and make search.

In a short time he hastened away.

The people spake, saying: There are signs that our younger brother is returning.

Some of the brothers hastened out to speak to him.

In response to their inquiries, the Puma said: O elder brothers,

Verily, there is an animal of some kind

In yonder place.

The elder brothers replied: Our younger brother has said

That an animal of some kind is in yonder place.

Make haste, the people said,

That we may send him to the abode of spirits.

It matters not whose little one this animal may be,

Verily, we are a people who spare none of the enemy.

They moved forward with quickened footsteps;

They made one ceremonial pause.

At the fourth

The Puma spake, saying: There he stands, O elder brothers.

The elder exclaimed: I have spoken; we shall send him to the abode of spirits!

Then he thrust his index finger into his mouth,

Quickly withdrew it, and pointed it at the animal.

The bird fell in death to the ground, its feathers strewing the earth.

The people hastened to the bird,

And spake to one another, saying: O elder brothers,

It is a swan, O elder brothers,

A white swan,
 A bird fit for a symbolic article.
 Behold its feet are dark in color.
 The tip of its bill is dark.
 Its feathers are white.
 From this bird also we shall take our personal names;
 White Swan shall be to us a personal name.
 White-bird shall also be a personal name to us.
 This shall be the name of the little ones.
 White-feather shall be a personal name.
 Behold the dark color of its feet,
 That we shall use as a symbol.
 When we go toward the setting sun against our enemies,
 That color shall be represented by charcoal.
 When the little ones use the charcoal as a sign of their supplications,
 Their prayers shall never fail to be heard.
 We have killed the white swan.
 Behold the curved neck of the bird.
 Of this we shall make a standard.
 When we use it as a standard and go against our enemies,
 The little ones shall not fail to overcome their enemies as they travel the path of life.

Moⁿ-iⁿka-zhiⁿ-ga Wi-gi'e, The Ritual of the Little Earth (Puma gens)

The Hoⁿ'ga people who possess seven fireplaces
 Spake to one another, saying: O younger brothers,
 It is not possible for the little ones to dwell upon the surface of the water.
 The Hoⁿ'ga Wa'tse-ga-wa set forth with quickened footsteps
 Toward an open prairie where trees grew not,
 And there, as he paused and stood,
 He beheld a man, standing plainly in sight,
 With uplifted hand, and fingers divided,
 Giving the hand a cloven, forked appearance.
 Wa'tse-ga-wa, returning in haste, spake,
 Saying: A man stands yonder, O elder brothers.
 To this they replied: It matters not what man's son he may be,
 Let us send him to the abode of the spirits.
 With firm resolve they hastened forward.
 The leader, with his index finger moistened between his lips,
 To slay the man by pointing at him with it.
 As the brothers came close to him
 He spake, saying: I am a Hoⁿ'ga;

I am Hon'ga Mon-iⁿ'ka-zhiⁿga, The Little Earth.
 I am he who is never absent from movements of importance.
 I am about to give you things that will cause you to be heartily grateful, O elder brothers.
 The elder brothers spake, saying:
 It is certain by the signs that our younger brother
 Is about to perform some important deed.
 The Little Earth brought forward a bit of dark soil and offered it to the brothers,
 Saying: I give this to you; it will satisfy your hearts' longings.
 When you use it (as a sacred symbol) in offering your supplications
 Your prayers shall always be readily granted.
 When in the dawning of the day
 You put upon your face a bit of the dark soil
 And shed tears of longing, even before the sun has risen to the height of your houses,
 Your prayers shall be readily granted.
 But, beware of closing your eyes, while yet this sign is upon your face,
 For then you shall cause yourself to fail to reach old age.
 Then Wa'tse-ga-wa brought forth a bit of blue soil,
 Saying: This is a gift, and by its use upon your face
 You shall never fail to secure the fulfillment of your desires.
 Little-earth sank into the ground as though gulped in by it.
 When he reappeared he gave to the brothers a bit of red soil,
 Saying: When you put this on your face,
 You shall not shed tears; if you do, there are penalties that I shall make you suffer.
 But as you go forth to the setting sun you shall succeed with ease in making your enemies fall in death.
 Again a fourth time he sank into the earth.
 Reappearing, he gave to the brothers a bit of yellow earth,
 Saying: You shall carry this with you as you offer your supplications, as you go forth to the setting sun,
 And when the fair captive you find and take,
 Upon his face put this bit of earth as a captive sign, O elder brothers.
 With this bit of soil the fair captive you shall always succeed in finding and taking.

(See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., p. 116, lines 2-51.)

Moⁿ-thiⁿ-ka zhiⁿ-ga Wi'-gi-e, Ritual of the Little Earth, gifts from the Moⁿ-shkoⁿ (Crawfish) of the Ni-ki-noⁿ-koⁿ rite, Hoⁿ'-ga division

There was a man whose name was Little Earth.
 He appeared before the people with a cloven hand uplifted,
 In which he held a bit of the dark soil of the earth,

Which he offered to the people as he spake,
 Saying: This bit of the dark soil of the earth
 They shall carry when they go to offer their supplications.
 Then shall their prayers be readily granted, O elder brothers.
 When the people of the Wa-zha'-zhe and of the Tsi'-zhu
 Put it upon their faces as they offer their supplications,
 Then, even before the sun has risen to the height of their houses,
 Their prayers shall be readily granted.
 Although that may be,
 When they put it upon their faces,
 They shall not close their eyes in sleep,
 When they close their eyes in sleep,
 They shall shorten their lives as men.

A bit of the blue soil of the earth
 He brought forth and stood offering it to the people.
 This bit of the blue soil of the earth
 They shall carry when they go to offer their supplications.
 When they carry this bit of blue earth as they offer their supplications,
 When they go forth against their enemies,
 Their prayers shall be readily granted.

He brought forth a bit of red soil of the earth.
 And stood offering it to the people.
 This bit of the red soil
 They shall carry when they go to offer their supplications.
 The people of the Wa-zha'-zhe and the Tsi'-zhu
 Shall use this bit of red earth as they offer their supplications.
 When they use it as they offer their supplications,
 Even before the sun rises to the height of their houses,
 Their prayers shall be readily granted.
 Although that may be,
 When they put it upon their faces,
 They shall not shed tears.

He brought forth a bit of the yellow soil of the earth
 And stood offering it to the people.
 This bit of the yellow soil of the earth
 Shall be used in offering their supplications
 By the people of the Wa-zha'-zhe and the Tsi'-zhu,
 So that their prayers may always be readily granted,
 When they go to seek the fair captives,
 They shall put this bit of yellow earth upon his face.

Ni Wi'-gi-e, Ritual of the Water (River)

I

One who belonged to the Wa-zha'-zhe of the seven sacred fireplaces,
 Who had made the water to be his flesh (a trope for life),
 Spake, saying: Behold, the right side of the body of the river,
 That I have taken to be the right side of my body.
 If the little ones also take the right side of the body of the river to be the right side of their body,
 They shall remove from themselves all causes of death.
 And if they make that side of the body of the river to be the means by which to reach old age,
 They shall live to see old age.

II

Behold, the hollow of the back (bed) of the river,
 I have made to be the hollow of my back.
 If the little ones also made the back of the river to be their back,
 They shall live to see old age.

III

Behold, the left side of the body of the river,
 That I have made to be the left side of my own body.
 If the little ones also make the left side of the body of the river to be the left side of their body,
 They shall live to see old age.

IV

Behold, the channel of the river,
 That I have made to be the cavity of my body.
 If the little ones also make the channel of the river to be the cavity of their body,
 The little ones shall remove from themselves all causes of death,
 And if they make it to be the means by which to reach old age,
 They shall live to see old age, my younger brothers,
 The people of the Ho'-ga and those of the Tsi'-zhu,
 Their little ones shall live to see old age.

Tsi'zhu Wa-noⁿ Wi'gi-e of the Child Naming

The Tsi'zhu, a people who have seven fireplaces, spake, Saying: O younger brothers,
 The little ones have nothing of which to make their symbols,
 To the Sho'ka Wa-ba-xi (the Chief Messenger),
 The little ones have nothing of which to make their symbols.

The Chief Messenger

Hastened to the

God of Day (the Sun), who sitteth in the heavens,
And returned with him to the people.

They spake to the God of Day, saying: O grandfather,
The little ones have nothing of which to make their symbols.

The God of Day quickly replied: It is well you sent for me.

Of all the groups of gods,

I am a god by myself.

The little ones shall make of me their symbols.

There is not one who has the power to see my path,

When the little ones make of me their symbols,

There is not one who shall be able to see their path in life's journey.

There is not one who has power to cross my path.

When the little ones make of me their symbols,

There is not one who shall be able to cross their path.

What one is there who can stand in my way to prevent my going?

When the little ones make of me their symbols,

There is not one who shall be able to stand on their way to prevent their going.

The Chief Messenger

Hastened to the

Goddess of Night (the Moon, who sitteth in the heavens),
And returned with her to the people.

They spake to her, saying: O grandmother,

The little ones have nothing of which to make their symbols.

The Goddess of Night replied: It is well you sent for me.

Of all the groups of gods,

I am a god by myself.

There is not one who has power to see my path,

When the little ones make of me their symbols.

There is not one who shall be able to see their path.

There is not one who has power to cross my path.

When the little ones make of me their symbols,

There is not one who shall be able to cross their path.

What one is there who can stand in my way to prevent my going?

When the little ones make of me their symbols,

There is not one who shall be able to stand in their way.

The Chief Messenger

Hastened to the

Star of Day (the Morning Star), who sitteth in the heavens,
And returned with him to the people.

They spake to the Star of Day, saying: O grandfather,

The little ones have nothing of which to make their symbols.

The Star of Day replied: It is well you sent for me.
The little ones shall make of me their symbols.
Of all the groups of gods,
I am a god by myself.
There is not one who shall be able to see their path.
There is not one who has power to cross my path,
When the little ones make of me their symbols,
There is not one who shall be able to cross their path.
When the little ones make of me their symbols,
There is not one who shall be able to stand in their way to prevent their going.

The Chief Messenger

Hastened to the
Star of Night (the Evening Star), who sitteth in the heavens,
And returned with her to the people.
They spake to her, saying: O grandmother,
The little ones have nothing of which to make their symbols.
The Star of Night replied: It is well you sent for me.
Of all the groups of gods,
I am a god by myself.
When the little ones make of me their symbols,
There is not one who shall be able to see their path,
There is not one who has power to cross my path,
When the little ones make of me their symbols,
There is not one who shall be able to cross their path.
What one is there who can stand in my way to prevent my going?
When the little ones make of me their symbols,
There is not one who shall be able to stand in their way to prevent
their going.

The Chief Messenger

Hastened to the
Litter (Great Bear), who stands in the midst of the heavens,
And returned with him to the people.
They spake to Litter, saying: O grandfather,
The little ones have nothing of which to make their symbols.
The Litter replied: It is well you sent for me.
Of all the groups of gods,
I am a god by myself.
The little ones shall make of me their symbols.
When the little ones make of me their symbols,
There is not one who shall be able to see their path.
When the little ones make of me their symbols,
There is not one who shall be able to cross their path.

What one is there who can stand in my way to prevent my going?
 When the little ones make of me their symbols,
 There is not one who shall be able to stand in their way to prevent
 their going.

The Chief Messenger

Hastened to

Ṭa-pa', Deer-head (Pleiades), who stands in the heavens,
 And returned with her to the people.

They spake to her, saying: O grandmother,
 The little ones have nothing of which to make their symbols.

Deer-head replied: It is well you sent for me.

Of all the groups of gods,

I am a god by myself.

When the little ones make of me their symbols,

There is no one who shall be able to see their path.

When the little ones make of me their symbols,

There is not one who shall be able to cross their path.

What one is there who can stand in my way to prevent my going?

When the little ones make of me their symbols,

There is not one who shall be able to stand in their way to prevent their going.

The Chief Messenger

Hastened to

Ṭa Tha'bthi^a, Three-deer (Orion's belt), who sitteth in the heavens,
 And returned with him to the people.

They spake to him, saying: O grandfather,

The little ones have nothing of which to make their symbols.

The Three-deer replied: Of all the groups of gods,

I am a god by myself.

The little ones shall make of me their symbols.

When the little ones make of me their symbols,

There is not one who shall be able to cross their path,

When the little ones make of me their symbols,

There is not one who shall be able to stand in their way to prevent their going.

The Chief Messenger

Hastened to

Mi-ka'k'e U-ki-tha-ç'i^a, Double-star (theta and iota in Orion), who sitteth in the heavens,

And returned with her to the people.

They spake to her, saying: O grandmother,

The little ones have nothing of which to make their symbols.

Double-star replied: It is well you sent for me.
 Of all the groups of gods,
 I am a god by myself.
 When the little ones make of me their symbols,
 There is not one who shall be able to see their path,
 There is not one who has power to cross my path,
 When the little ones make of me their symbols,
 There is not one who shall be able to cross their path.
 When the little ones make of me their symbols,
 There is not one who shall be able to stand in their way to prevent
 their going.

The Chief Messenger

Hastened to

Mi-ka'k'e zhu-dse, Red-star (Pole star), who sitteth in the heavens,
 And returned with him to the people.

They spake to him, saying: O grandfather,
 The little ones have nothing of which to make their symbols.

Red-star replied: It is well you sent for me.

Of all the groups of the gods,

I am a god by myself.

The little ones shall make of me their symbols.

There is not one who has power to see my path,

When the little ones make of me their symbols,

There is not one who shall be able to see their path.

There is not one who has power to cross my path.

When the little ones make of me their symbols,

There is not one who shall be able to cross their path.

When the little ones make of me their symbols,

There is no one who shall be able to stand in their way to prevent their going.

The Chief Messenger

Hastened to

The side of the heavens,

Where lay Shoⁿ'ge, the Dog (Sirius), as though suspended in the sky,
 And returned with him to the people.

They spake to him, saying: O grandfather,

The little ones have nothing of which to make their symbols.

The Dog replied: The little ones shall make of me their symbols.

Behold the tip of my nose.

It is not placed there without a purpose;

I have placed it there for chasing away other gods;

I use it for keeping other gods from entering my house,

When the little ones make of me their symbols,

They shall use it to chase away other gods.
 Behold the hair on the crown of my head grown thin;
 It has not grown thin without a purpose;
 I have made it to be a sign of old age.
 When the little ones make of me their symbols,
 They shall see in their whitened hair,
 The sign of old age.
 Then there comes a time,
 When a calm and tranquil day comes upon me,
 So there shall come upon the little ones a calm and peaceful day as they travel the path of life.

Wa-no'-çe a-ba-çu Wi-gi-e, Pertaining to the Attack

O ye valiant men,
 There is a person whom they made to be their weapon.
 He is the great hawk.
 My grandfather (the hawk) is a fear-inspiring weapon.
 Even with a slight stroke of his wing he will disable his prey,
 So that it can not escape beyond the brow of the nearest hill.

There is another person whom they made to be their weapon.
 He is the crow.
 My grandfather (the crow)
 Is a person to whom nothing is beyond understanding.
 He flies swiftly through and through the dense forests,
 And as swiftly he makes his way through the carrion upon which he feeds.
 When, before the break of day,
 I make him to be a weapon for you,
 Your weapons shall not be ineffective.
 Or, when in the evening of the day,
 I make him to be a weapon for you,
 Your weapons shall not be ineffective, O valiant men.
 (See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 295-296.)

Wa-țse-gi-tsi Wi-gi-e, Ritual Man from the Stars

The people spake to one another, saying: O younger brother,
 We are a people who spare none of our foes,
 Who are never absent from any important movement.
 Thus they spake to the one who had of the Puma his body,
 Saying: O, younger brother,
 Even as these words were spoken, the Puma went forth.
 After a time the people said: There are signs that our younger brother is returning.

Stumbling, tripping again and again, he hastens homeward.
 Some of the brothers hastened to meet him and speak to him.
 In response to their inquiries, the Puma spake, saying:
 Yonder stands a man, O elder brothers,
 Whose appearance excites fear,
 Who is like us in form.
 Then the people spake, saying, O younger brothers,
 I have said we are a people who spare none of our foes,
 Who are never absent from any important movement.
 Whoever this man may be,
 We shall send him to the abode of spirits.
 It matters not whose little one he may be,
 We shall make him to lie low.
 In the direction of the man they hastened.
 When they made the fourth ceremonial pause,
 The Puma spake, saying: There he stands, O elder brothers!
 We shall send him to the abode of the spirits, said the people.
 They thrust their index fingers into their mouths,
 To moisten them and give them killing power.
 The man spake, saying:
 I am Ho^{n'}-ga (a sacred person), O elder brothers, he stood saying.
 He speaks our language clearly, said the Puma.
 I am a Ho^{n'} ga, the stranger continued, who has come from the midst of the stars,
 O elder brothers.
 Young-chief is my name,
 Star-chief is my name,
 Radiant-star is my name,
 Star-that-travels is my name.
 It is well, the people said.
 The stranger continued: Young-chief
 Is a name you shall use;
 Radiant-star is also a name you shall use;
 In giving you these names I give you cause to be grateful and happy,
 O elder brothers.
 The people spake to one another, saying:
 We shall henceforth banish from our midst all anger and hatred.
 The names he has offered us we shall accept as ours.
 This man speaks our language fluently;
 The name Speaks-fluently shall also be ours.
 You say this man is like a stranger;
 From that also we shall make a name for ourselves.
 Sacred stranger we shall make to be our name.

(See 36th Ann. Rept. Bur. Amer. Ethn., pp. 228-229, lines 239-304.)

Xo'-dse, The Cedars

On the brink of a precipice Stood a cedar,
 Sighing where he stands in his chosen place, Saying: Here, upon the brink of this precipice, I stand, in order that the little ones may make of me their medicine.
 In the midst of all the four winds,
 Whichever way the winds blew,
 He sent forth with pleasing fragrance,
 Saying: Behold the base of my trunk (the roots)
 Which I have made to be the sign of my old age.
 When the little ones make of me their symbol,
 They shall live to see the toes of their feet gnarled with age.
 Behold the wrinkles of my ankles,
 Behold my outspreading branches;
 These I have made to be the signs of my old age.
 When the little ones make of these their symbols,
 In their ankles and limbs there shall be no cause of death.
 Behold the downward bend of the tops of my branches;
 These are the signs of my old age.
 With these as symbols
 The people shall live to see their shoulders bent with age.
 Behold the feathery tops of my branches;
 These are the signs of my old age.
 When the little ones make of these their symbols,
 They shall live to see their hair whitened and feathery with age as they travel the path of life.
 So stands the cedar to be used as medicine by the little ones.

STORIES

Origin of the Whistle Wa-xo-be

There were four brothers who took care of and protected their aged parents. Two of the brothers were married. One day, when the people of the tribe were about to go on a buffalo hunt, these four brothers held a consultation and agreed to stay at home and continue to look out for their parents. After the war party had gone the brothers took their parents and moved to a part which they knew to be full of black bears. Here they pitched their camp in the woods. While these brothers were gone on a hunt they returned one day and found their parents had been slain by a war party and the wigwams burned.

The three older brothers decided to follow the trail of the enemy and take revenge for the death of their parents. The younger brother had gone some distance away and refused to join the brothers. Upon being asked why he refused he said he would join them if they made him the leader. This was done. All were satisfied with the arrangements, so they started with the new leader in pursuit of the enemy. Not only did the younger brother act as leader, but did all the scout work, and, in company with his dog, found the trail fresher the farther he went. Each evening the young scout reported to his brothers. On one day he hurriedly came and reported that he had found the camp of the enemy. Much to the surprise of the brothers, a pack of gray wolves was with the young man. All started for the attack. Stealthily they approached the camp, the men giving war cries and the wolves howls, and the charge was made. This caused a panic in the camp and the enemy fled, but the wolves were too swift for them; they caught the men sometimes by threes, while the brothers clubbed them to death. Thus the four brothers avenged the death of the parents. In commemoration of the victory the brothers made the Whistle Wa-xo-be, which is now in the National Museum at Washington, D. C.

The Osage Tribe dwelt along the Missouri River. They had planned a buffalo hunt. Among them were two young men who decided not to go, but to remain at home and care for their aged parents. When the tribe had gone the two young men moved their camp to a place where they found game in plenty. Here they built a wigwam, making their parents comfortable and keeping the home well supplied with food. These young men belonged to the Mi-k'i' gens of the tribe.

One day the younger man spoke to the father, saying: "I think I can find a stray buffalo, so I am going out on my horse; if I do not come home do not feel uneasy, because I will be safe." He rode away and saw a buffalo, which he chased and killed. While in the act of butchering it he was attacked by a war party and taken captive. For many days the war party traveled westward until they reached their own village.

In the home of the war leader the captive was subjected to many abuses. As he stood bound to a tree some crows flew about him. One stopped near him and said: "Keep up your courage; you shall live to see your parents." During the afternoon a storm arose, driving the people into their houses, where they were obliged to remain for two days. From being tied up the young man became sore and stiff, but in stretching himself he found the thongs with which he was bound yielded to the pressure and without much effort slipped them from his hands and ankles. It was his chance for escape. He hurried to a cornfield, where he found ripening corn. Plucking some of the ears, he hid himself, but not for long, for he heard the warriors making search for him. Remembering the custom of his own people, he thought it would be wise to seek protection in the home of the chief. As he entered the village he saw a tent which was larger than the others; this he took for the home of the chief and, hastening to it, sat down in the doorway. The daughter of the chief, seeing the young captive, asked her father to buy him, that she might have a brother, but the captors would not part with the young man, not even for horses or other goods. After entreaties on the part of the maiden the father said: "We will keep him; he is in the house of refuge and no one can take him." Having been assigned the place usually given the son of a family, food and drink were placed before him; the mother, assisted by the maiden, cut and made moccasins and leggings for him. The father of the young woman hastily gathered the subordinate chiefs to consult them, saying that this young man was to be treated as if he were his own son. To this the subordinate chiefs agreed.

Being skilled in the hunting of buffalo and other small game, the adopted son told his father he would do the hunting for him. Just as other young women helped their brothers, so the chief's daughter took the pack horses for her adopted brother.

For two years this young man remained in the family of his adoption, in the same tribe. One day, while alone with him, the young maiden questioned him as to his own family and whether he would like to see them. In reply he said he was contented in his new home, but would like to see his parents. The chief, always desirous of pleasing his daughter, yielded to her request and let the young man return to his people, providing escorts for him so that no harm would befall him. A few days' journey brought the young Osage into his people's country. Here the escorts were excited at being in a strange land and did not continue farther with the young man, but returned to their own camp.

One afternoon as he traveled alone he surprised an Osage who had killed an elk and was preparing to cut it up. So intent was this man upon his work that he did not notice the stranger, and for some time he had lost his wits. Then the young captive gave his name and asked: "Are my parents still living?" With some hesitancy the other spoke: "The people whose names you mention are still living and well, but you are dead; it is your spirit that has come back to trouble me."

Hearing the young man's story, the hunter was satisfied, and, packing his horse, led the way to the camp of the young man's family. The young captive was gladly embraced by his relatives, with the exception of his older brother. To his father he gave of his horses.

Being at home, he again began to provide for his parents and to care for them. During the long evenings he had many talks with his father, asking questions concerning the rites of the people, chiefly desiring to learn what was necessary in war and ceremonial organization of a war party. Learning what he wanted to know, the young man did not make his heart's desire known to the Noⁿ-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga, but appointed himself as Do-doⁿ-hoⁿ-ga without any men, and alone went to Noⁿ-zhiⁿ-zho (vigil), remaining six days. On the seventh day he returned, selected the men he wished to accompany him on a war party, telling them of the enemy he was going to attack, as they were the ones who had captured and abused him.

Before starting the young leader made request for the wa-xo-be in his brother's possession, but was refused, on the ground that he was a ghost and not a brother, and it would be lost. Determined to go on the war party, the young man was sure he could make up his own songs and wi-gi-e during the march, and his warriors being willing to go on with him without the wa-xo-be, they went. He had with him the spirit of revenge all the time.

As was planned, a night attack was made. Among the things taken were the horses belonging to the chief who had adopted the young man. These were returned to him, for which the chief showed appreciation by signs. A young girl was captured by this war party and scalped, her hair being used for the wa-xo-be, which is known as the Pa-hiu-gthoⁿ-ge Wa-xo-be. Victory being accomplished, the young man returned to his village, and was met by his brother, who wished to sing the songs of victory. Remembering how the wa-xo-be had been refused him, the younger brother scorned the offer, saying that he had his own songs and could make proper ceremonial entry into the village. Permission was given by the Noⁿ-hoⁿ-zhiⁿ-ga to make the scalp wa-xo-be.

May 7, 1916. This story, told by Wa-xthi-zhi, is substantially the same, only the scalp wa-xo-be was worn by a warrior of the people they attacked. He wore it on his shoulders when he was killed, and the young leader took it. This version may be true, as the wa-xo-be is made of bits from a number of scalps.

This wa-xo-be belonged to the Mi-ḱ'iⁿ' Wa-noⁿ and the Hoⁿ I-ni-ḱi-shi-ga.
