The proposed budget amendment for Student Financial Assistance reduces the March budget request for funding by 12 percent. In addition, it provides for the separation of the need analysis system used for Pell Grants from that used for the campus-based programs and gives the Department needed flexibility to more equitably administer the reduced funding for Pell Grants by eliminating the need to implement statutory reduction. This proposal would reduce 1982 outlays by $46 million.

This increase provides for the support of a larger loan portfolio due to an increase in the number of student loans made by qualified lenders in 1981. This large increase is a result of the Congress failure to enact the President's proposals for 1981. This reestimate would increase 1982 outlays by $477 million.

This proposal would provide for a reduction of the program's available resources caused by mandated loans to Georgetown University and Boston College in 1981; and a reestimate of 1982 payments required by Government National Mortgage Association to retire participation certificates. This reestimate would increase 1982 outlays by $57 million.

I-J14	Economic Regulation	$184,126,000	-$155,626,000	-$13,900,000	$14,600,000

Reduction of $2 million is proposed for utility programs, petroleum operations, emergency preparedness, program administration, and hearings and appeals as part of the Administration's proposed pro-rata 12-percent reduction from the March 1981 budget request. No new funding is necessary for several other activities since funds have been deferred from 1981 to 1982 for these purposes. Of $38.2 million thus deferred, funds are proposed for compliance ($23.5 million), fuels conversion ($5 million) and program phase-down and termination ($9.7 million). This proposal would reduce 1982 outlays by $13.9 million.

The Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 1981 established a new off-budget account for financing oil acquisition for the Strategic Petroleum Reserve (SPR) in 1982. The proposed amendment accomplishes two purposes: (1) it shifts the President's request for appropriations from the on-budget to the off-budget account in order to conform to the provisions of the Act; and (2) it reduces the request for appropriations by 12 percent as part of the Administration's pro-rata reduction. This proposal would result in 1982 off-budget outlays of $2,876 million.

This reduction is part of the Administration's proposed pro-rata 12-percent reduction, after reflecting a $112 million increase for additional training, job search, and relocation assistance for recipients of trade adjustment assistance, as contemplated by the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981. This increase is more than offset by a decrease in trade adjustment benefits from the Federal unemployment benefits and allowances account. The proposal also reflects changes in various authorizing statutes made by the Reconciliation Act. The proposal would reduce 1982 outlays by $254 million.

This decrease reflects the reductions in entitlements which the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981 made to unemployment benefits and allowances for ex-service members and to trade adjustment benefits for workers whose unemployment was declared, under the law, to be the result of increased imports. Outlays from this account would be reduced by $1,474 million.

one-time funding to aid in the transfer of commuter services from Conrail to either an Amtrak commuter subsidiary or a commuter authority; and fourth, it eliminates $50 million in appropriations for a Conrail workforce reduction program, the authority and funding for which have been shifted to the Conrail Labor Protection appropriation under the provisions of the Northeast Rail Service Act of 1981. This amendment would provide labor protection benefits to Conrail employees as follows: $85 million for a new protection program to be negotiated between the Department of Labor and railroad unions for certain Conrail employees who are furloughed; $25 million for close-out costs associated with the termination of the Title V labor protection program; and $115 million for implementation of a Conrail workforce reduction program which is intended to relieve Conrail of surplus trainmen and enginemen. The proposal would provide the requisite funding by means of a transfer of balances which are not expected to be used in 1982.
