

A PRELIMINARY CATALOGUE OF THE ESKIMO COLLECTION IN THE U. S.
NATIONAL MUSEUM, ARRANGED GEOGRAPHICALLY AND BY USES.

By Lieut. T. DIX BOLLES, U. S. Navy.

The list here presented is intended to be of service as an introduction to a complete analysis of Eskimo art.

The collection is made up of the smaller collections of R. Macfarlane, Capt. E. P. Herendeen, R. Kennicott, C. F. Hall, Prof. W. H. Dall, T. H. Bean, E. W. Nelson, L. M. Turner, L. Kumlein; Lieut. George M. Stoney, U. S. Navy; Captain Hooper, U. S. Revenue Marine; Lieut. C. L. McKay, U. S. Revenue Marine; Lieut. P. H. Ray, U. S. Army; Henry W. Elliott; Sergt. S. Applegate, U. S. Signal Corps; William J. Fisher, and others.

Nearly two years have been occupied by the compiler in reaching a result which he trusts will aid the student who may be inclined to an exhaustive comparison between the various villages or the Indian tribes whose boundaries touch the Eskimo territory.

The nomenclature is that of Ivan Petroff, from his chart in vol. viii, Tenth Census Report. Differences in spelling and even in names made it necessary to adopt some writer's plan in its entirety, even if some errors were evident. Petroff seems to me the most accurate and also has more or less official status.

In many cases the location or use of an object was wrongly given by collectors; this was misleading at first, but before long the multiplication of these errors caused serious confusion. These have been placed in their proper locality.

In the following table of places the geographical arrangement follows the coast-lines from east to west and south, taking in the outlying islands, etc., as they occur geographically.

Although similarities in many or even all respects may point to a closer connection between vicinities which are only a few miles apart, these may be separated in the list by a number of geographically-coast-line-following places; no attempt to follow these similarities will be made here.

Latitudes and longitudes are given to facilitate identification. The numbers in the columns express the whole number of specimens from a locality.

In the résumé at the end the writer notes the total number of articles handled, located, arranged, marked, and labeled.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS.

- AMULETS. Objects carried by hunters to bring good luck or to avoid bad.
- BABY-SEAL HOOK. Used for dragging the baby seal from its snow concealment.
- BAG FASTENER. A slip of ivory tied to the end of the string, which is wrapped around the bag and then thrust under the cord to keep all tight.
- BAILER, ICE. A sieve on the end of a handle to clear seal hole of small ice.
- BRUSH, ICE. An implement similarly used.
- BARK-SKINNER. A knife and curved bone to cut and remove birch bark.
- BEAD SEPARATOR. Ivory bars placed at intervals in bead-work, and pierced, to hold the thread on which the beads are strung.
- BERILS. Bone tools to round the edges of ivory or bone implements.
- BLOOD-PINS. Used to close the wounds in dead animals, to save the blood for food.
- BOOT-SOLE CREASER. A crimper used to prepare the seam before sewing.
- BRIDGE. A small curved wedge used to tighten sinew on bows.
- CHECK ON DRAG-LINE. An ivory slip to keep noose close to object inclosed.
- CHECK ON WHALE-LINE. A friction check to save the hand from chafing when the line is running out.
- COMBS FOR GRASS. Used to hackle grass.
- DECOYS. The seal is inquisitive, and any strange noise or object, which does not frighten, will attract it and bring it into the snare.
- DECOY FLOAT. Float on a net carved to resemble a bird, animal or simply a rattle.
- DECOY SCRATCHER. A claw used near net or seal hole to attract seal; imitation of male seal.
- DETACHER FOR HARPOON POINT. An ivory double button, on one of which the loop of the point-line is fixed, but which allows it to slip off when the point strikes.
- DRAG CHAIN OR HANDLE. Used with a cord and noose to drag game on the ice.
- FINGER-MASKS. Small articles of wood ornamented with hair or feathers
- FINGER-REST. A check for the finger to rest against.
- FIRE-BIT. A soft wood spindle, which is rapidly revolved to produce fire.
- FIRE MOUTH-PIECE. A wooden piece held in the teeth. This has a stone bearing for the upper end of the fire-bit.
- FIRE-SOCKET. Soft wood stick, on which the fire-bit is revolved, producing fire.
- FISH BAIT. Small ivory fish or bright-colored material, used as bait.
- FLOAT. The skin of a seal blown up to sustain the walrus line and act as a drag.
- FLOAT MOUTH-PIECE. The orifice through which the air enters or escapes.
- FLOAT PLUG. A disk, with a groove around it, used to close natural or accidental holes in seal float.
- FUNGUS. Used to mix with tobacco for smoking.
- GAMBLING BLOCK AND PIN. A game similar to "cup and ball."
- GAMBLING DUCKS. A game similar to "heads and tails."
- GAMBLING COUNTERS. A game similar to "odd and even."
- GAMBLING TARGET AND LANCE. Each participant puts up a wager; the target, a netted oval ring, is hung in the air and the lance is thrown at it. If the point gets entangled the thrower has a choice of the wager laid out.
- HARPOON POINT. The outer section carrying the blade.
- HARPOON LOOSE SHAFT. The intermediate shaft.
- HARPOON FORESHAFT. The bone or ivory socket on wooden shafts.
- HARPOON BUTT. The lower extremity usually shod with a pike to give a hold on ice.
- HUNTING TALLY. A bone or ivory stick on which to mark number of game.
- ICE-CREEPERS. Rough pieces to tie on sole of boot.
- KAYAK SUITS. Two kinds of jackets for fair and foul weather.
- KNIFE, BLUBBER. With heavy blade like a cleaver.
- KNIFE, CUTTING. Defense knife.
- KNIFE, CARVING. To cut and carve wood or ivory.

- KNIFE, FISH. For cleaning and scaling fish.
- KNIFE, STABBING. To give the coup de grace to captured game.
- KNIFE, SNOW. For clearing snow from fur garments, etc.
- LEADERS. Used on dart shaft to keep the line clear from tangles.
- LOUSERS. Curved ribs of animals to scrape and destroy vermin in clothes.
- MASKS. Used in festivities.
- MEDICINE-MAN'S WAND. Used in ceremonial to discover witch.
- MOUTH-PIECE TO OIL BAG. A cup-shaped orifice used either in filling or drinking.
- MUSKRAT BOW AND ARROW. The arrows are tied to the bow and used at short range.
- NEEDLE BOARD. On which needle eyes are drilled.
- NET WEIGHT. To hang in the mesh and keep it open while making.
- PADDLE YOKE. The cross-piece for the hand on the end of the handle.
- PRICKER. A large bodkin to open knots.
- SCRAPERS. Used in dressing skins to remove fat and integument.
- SEAL PROBE. Thrust down a seal hole to give warning of the animal's approach.
- SINEW TIGHTENER. A bow-maker's tool to put the turns of sinew on smoothly and tightly.
- SINEW TWIRLER. A twirling tool used while making sinew cord.
- SLING BOARD. This has been spoken of in other works as a throwing-stick, but it is properly a sling, as it does not leave the hand.
- SLING DART. The light harpoon, which is used with the board.
- SNUFF TUBES. Inserted into the nose and box to avoid waste and to increase the dose.
- SPIDER LINE. A sinew line stretched across the top of boat, under which the lance, paddle, etc., are placed to prevent their rolling about.
- STOOL. Used while watching a seal-hole: to keep the feet off the ice.
- WATER TUBES. Used to suck out the water and filth from the boat while en route.
- WHIRLER. A toy to swing about the head. It makes a buzzing noise.
