

MUSEUM ACRONYMS* - SECOND EDITION

A preliminary or first edition of a list of museum acronyms was published in Herpetological Review in 1978 (vol. 9, no. 1, pp. 5-9). The list was compiled by the members of the Electronic Data Processing Subcommittee of the Joint Herpetological Resources Committee (a committee sponsored by the American Society of Ichthyologists and Herpetologists, Herpetologists' League, and the Society for the Study of Amphibians and Reptiles). The criteria for assigning acronyms for each of the cited collections were given in the introductory statement, and those criteria were followed in preparing this second edition. When the first list was published, users were asked to send their comments, corrections, emendations, and suggestions for additions and deletions to the chairman of the subcommittee. Many did so, and their responses have been individually and critically reviewed. Where there have been conflicts among the recommendations of two or more respondents, choices had to be made, and in these cases the committee accepts full responsibility for having so chosen.

In the first edition of the acronym list, a number of private collections were cited. Private collections have been omitted from the second edition. In the opinion of the committee, although a few private collections are frequently cited in the literature, those of importance are ultimately deposited in recognized institutional collections, and the committee did not want to otherwise encourage the proliferation of non-institutional collections by those seeking to have a private acronym designation. Also, in the first edition several institutions were listed whose collections had previously been transferred to other administrative agencies (i. e. other institutions) for permanent care. These institutions have been culled from the present list inasmuch as the committee members did not feel that the present list need accommodate an historical review of all acronyms, past and present, that have appeared in the literature.

The second edition of the acronym list should be treated as the penultimate step in the construction of a set of alpha-codes for the citation of museum specimens both in the literature and in electronic data processing. Again, users are encouraged to send suggestions for revisions to a member of the Joint Herpetological Resource Committee (see below) for review. This acronym list will be enlarged to include ichthyological collections not co-located at institutions having herpetological collections as well. Thus, a third edition may be expected incorporating minimal changes to the present list, save for obvious errors and additions and/or deletions to the list of herpetological collections.

Clearly this list is not binding on the users. However, hopefully its adoption will result in the standardization of coded collection names, reducing the proliferation of multiple acronyms for given collections, a not uncommon occurrence in past and recent literature.

The committee members thank those who took time to review the first edition of the acronym list and who sent their comments to the committee. Further, to the members of the earlier subcommittee who have not participated in the present update, Drs. William Duellman, C. J. McCoy, and Tom Fritts, the members of the present committee wish to express their appreciation for having done the pioneer work, which made the compilation of the second edition an order of magnitude easier. Dr. Michele Aldrich helped proof-read the final version of this list; finding numerous glitches which had escaped the notice of the compilers, her attention contributed to a marked improvement in the published copy.

Should users wish to comment on this list, please address your remarks to the chairman, or to any committee member if otherwise convenient.

For the Joint Herpetological Resource Committee:

Alan E. Leviton, Chairman (CAS)
Roy McDiarmid (USNM)
Scott Moody (OUVC)
Max Nickerson (MPM)
Jose Rosado (MCZ)
Otto Sokol (USA)
Harold Voris (FMNH)

* Two respondents criticized the use of the term "acronym" for the alpha-code names for the collections. The term "eponym" was suggested by one of the two. While neither seems entirely suitable, "eponym" does appear more applicable in this case. However, the word "acronym" is retained in the title of the second edition pending a more thorough etymological review of the options available.
