

STRI NEWS

You are reminded that for the rest of the month of October, Mr. N. Almanza will be taking groups to immigration to obtain the "special residency permits" and the "exit/entry" permits. He will be doing this on Tuesdays and Thursdays leaving from the Tivoli Office at 8:30 a.m.

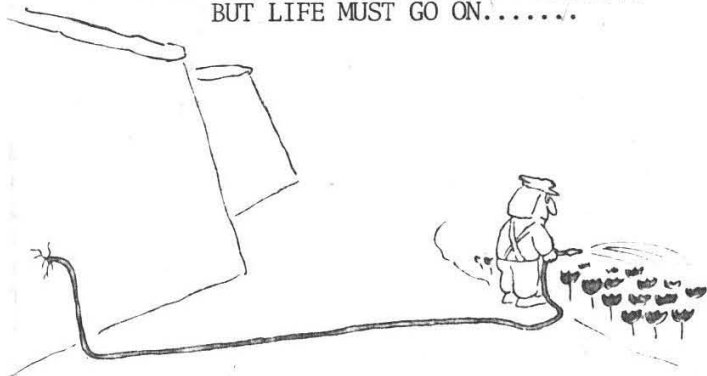

Mrs. Mercedes Arroyo will be leaving on Maternity Leave as of Friday, Oct. 12th. We wish Mercedes, best of luck, and know that SHE WILL BE MISSED.

Ms. Katherine Troyer, University of California at Davis, who is here at STRI conducting research on "The Diet and Digestion of Iguanas" has received a Grant-in-Aid of Research from the Sigma Xi Committee on Awards for the amount of $275. Congratulations.

Mr. Daniel T. Gregg, a student of biology at Canal Zone College is interested in working as a volunteer assistant to anyone of the scientists or students at STRI. Mr. Gregg has an advanced diving certificate and a B.S. in journalism. He may be contacted at 84-4184

The University of Iowa has recently organized an Evolutionary Ecology and Behavior Program. In this program student and faculty interests range from field studies in temperate and tropical communities to laboratory tests of evolutionary and ecological theory. The particular strength of the program is an intellectual environment in which a student may integrate such varied disciplines as quantitative genetics, adaptation, phytochemistry, and population and community ecology. For further information, please see circular on the Library Bulletin Board.

STILL NO CONGRESSIONAL APPROPRIATIONS...
BUT LIFE MUST GO ON.....
